As part of a relegation battle, a key moment in the match was when goalkeeper Baardssen saved a six pointer from the opposition. The save was a crucial moment in the match, as it prevented the opposition from securing a win that would have put them into relegation. Baardssen's performance was highly praised by the fans and the media.

HARRY REDKNAPP

THE MANAGER

We face an extremely tall order now if we are going to progress in the Europa League following Wednesday's match against PAOK.

It took us a while to get going and that is probably what cost us. It was an uphill task after the first 15 minutes but once we scored the penalty before half-time I thought we could go on and win the game.

We certainly went at them after the break, but we just weren't able to get the goals we needed. It was difficult, they got bodies back, and we were unable to break them down.

It is a disappointing result because we wanted to win and it is looking like we will need some sort of miracle to make the last 32 of the competition now.

We have obviously made changes in the Europa League, playing some of the younger players, and that in itself is one plus point.

Our prospects of progressing now look slim and it is out of our hands. We need other results to go for us and we have to win in Ireland against Shamrock Rovers, which will not be easy.

We have to move on. It is back to Premier League matters today with Bolton Wanderers the visitors as we welcome Owen Coyle, his players, staff and their supporters to White Hart Lane.

Make no mistake, this will be a real test for us this afternoon but we have to try to continue our incredible run in the league and pick up the three points. We shouldn't look further than that. We need to stay focussed and make sure we play well.

Owen is a fantastic young manager and Bolton will try to make it tough for us here, they are a hard-working side.

We have been doing well but it is still early in the season and the competition up at the top of the Premier League is fierce. There are up to seven sides up there battling it out. It will be really tight but we look a good team. We've got pace, we're athletic, we have young players but we also have that experience in the right areas. We are also spreading the goals about the team this year, which is important.

There is not a lot between the sides at the top. You only had to see Liverpool's game against Manchester City last weekend, there was nothing between them. Any side that can keep their run of results going and can maintain that belief can do it this year. It is an open top group of teams in the division and we are part of it.

Enjoy the game.

GARETH MAKES WORLD SHORTLIST

Gareth Bale has been named on the shortlist for the prestigious FIFA FIFPro World XI for 2011.

The 50,000 professional footballers belonging to the players' unions across the world that form FIFPro took part in a secret ballot to nominate their peers for inclusion in their World XI – choosing the best four defenders, three midfielders, three forwards and goalkeeper of 2011.

Gareth has been in flying form for both club and country again this season. He has scored four goals already in our 12 Premier League matches - plus another in the Europa League - and in three successive internationals as Wales toppled Bulgaria and Switzerland in Euro 2012 qualifiers and then Norway in a friendly.

The final FIFA FIFPro World XI will be announced at the FIFA Ballon d'Or at the Zurich Kongresshaus on January 9.

During this televised gala, the winner of the FIFA Ballon d'Or for the best player of 2011 and the FIFA Women's World Player of the Year 2011 award will also be revealed.

In addition, the FIFA World Coach of the Year for Men's Football award and the FIFA World Coach of the Year for Women's Football award will be presented for the second time. The FIFA Puskás Award for the best goal of the year, the FIFA Presidential Award and the FIFA Fair Play Award will complete the line-up of awards presented during the gala.

ADE'S DELIGHT

It was a whole new ball game for Emmanuel Adebayor when we fell behind at West Brom last weekend – but the striker was delighted with the character we showed to bounce back and win.

When Youssouf Mulumbu headed the home team into a 1-0 lead in the 10th minute, it represented the first time both Emmanuel and Scott Parker had trailed in a match as Spurs players.

However Emmanuel insisted that the belief was there all along that we'd recover to take the three points – and he scored twice as we did just that.

Ade got us back into the game when he followed up his saved penalty in the 26th minute and after creating a host of chances in the second half, his clever flick sent Jermain Defoe away to drill home for 2-1 with nine minutes remaining.

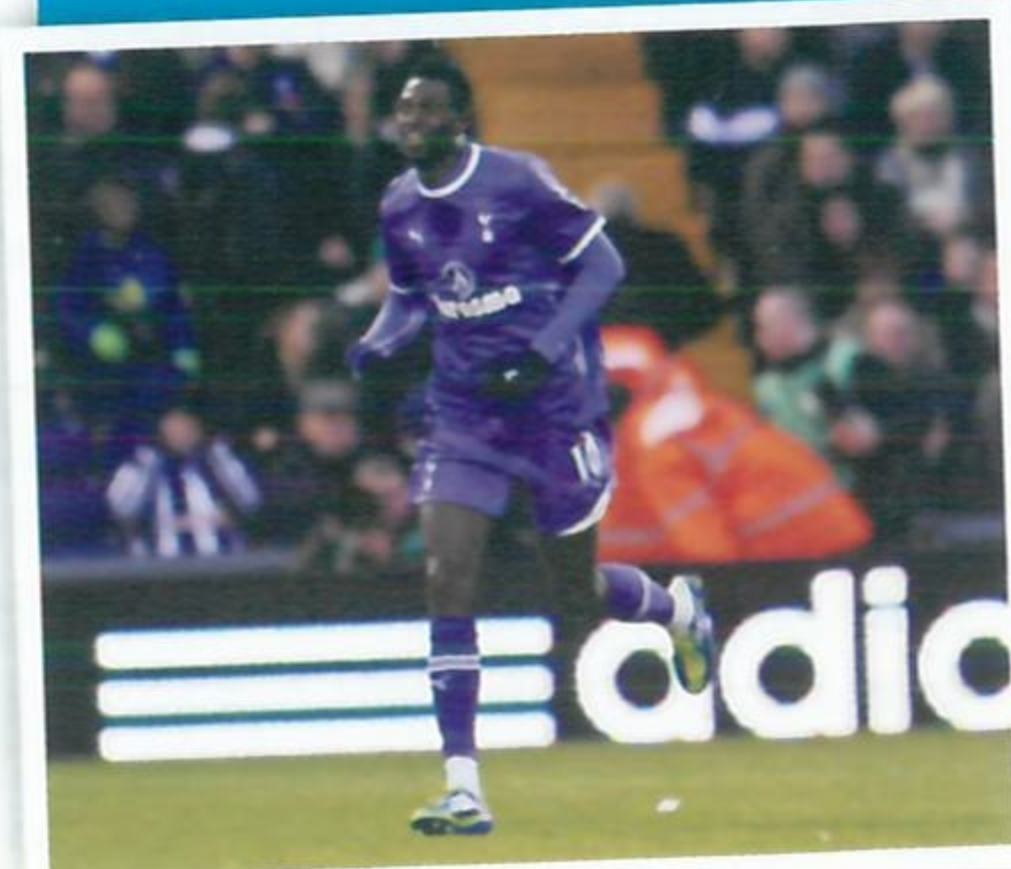

Emmanuel then put the issue beyond any doubt with his second goal for 3-1 deep into injury time.

The nature of the win highlighted the confidence in the squad as we stretched our run to nine wins and a draw in our last 10 matches in the Premier League.

"We all know what we can do," said Ade. "You could see when they scored that no-one panicked, we told ourselves to keep going, to keep the belief that we could still win."

"Even going behind didn't affect us because we've got the capacity to come back and win the game and that's what we did."

"It's always good to show team spirit, character and personality. This win said a lot of things. To recover like that in an away game is good for us. At home, we can do it, we know that, but to do it away, all I can say is congratulations to the team."

FLYING RYAN'S FAB FOUR

Ryan Mason scored four goals as our Spurs XI team beat the Sports & Future Football Academy from Holland 7-2 in a friendly at Spurs Lodge on Wednesday.

Our young forward was in fine form in front of goal and bagged a second half hat-trick as we scored the goals that reflected our dominance in the final half-hour.

Sports & Future Football Academy (FFA) is similar to Glenn Hoddle's Academy, offering a route back into the game for players who haven't made the breakthrough at their professional club.

John Bostock fired us into an early lead before Mason looped home a header from Dean Parrett's cross for 2-0 inside 15 minutes.

There were no more goals in the first half and FFA got back into the game from the penalty spot in the 53rd minute.

It didn't take long for Mason to make it 3-1, darting in at the near post to finish after good work down the left byline by Cameron Lancaster.

FFA replied again from close range for 3-2 just before the hour mark but we then took over.

Recently back from a loan spell at Doncaster, Mason completed his hat-trick when he was sent clean through by Lancaster on 61 minutes and then Lancaster finished well one-on-one for 5-2.

Mason slotted home from the spot after FFA were penalised for handball and Massimo Luongo completed the scoring after bursting through the middle for 7-2 with five minutes remaining.

Spurs XI: Miles, Stewart, Veljkovic, Nicholson, Bostock, Pritchard, Luongo, Parrett, Dawkins, Mason, Lancaster.

LADIES DEFEAT SEAGULLS

Spurs Ladies banished a run of defeats in the FA Women's Premier League South with a fine 2-0 win at Brighton last weekend. The newly-promoted team had lost six games on the trot after a fine start to the campaign. However, goals from Emma Plewa and Jenna Schillaci turned that form around in front of over 500 fans at the Withdean Stadium.

Chelsea Gooding stepped up for her first team debut and impressed in midfield as we started brightly and took the lead when Jenna's free-kick struck the crossbar and Emma reacted quickest to slot home the rebound.

Brighton responded but Derrie O'Halloran cleared off the line and then when a free-kick from the home side struck the woodwork, captain Sam Pittuck was first to react and clear the danger.

The teams cancelled each other out somewhat in the second half although Emma started to cause havoc down the left-hand side. She made two or three excellent runs and eventually it paid off as she got to the byline and crossed for Jenna (pictured) to slot home and secure the points.

"This is the result we've been waiting for after what has been a testing few weeks," said manager Karen Hills. "I knew it wouldn't be long before we put in a great team performance.

"We must now carry that momentum into our next game which is going to be a hard-fought away contest against struggling Millwall Lionesses."

Spurs Ladies: Jo Ayre, Derrie O'Halloran (Kirsten Thompson, 78), Sam Pittuck (C), Ebony Heath, Rhya Vyse, Emma Plewa, Nicola Cable, Chelsea Gooding, Robyn McEvoy, Jenna Schillaci, Wendy Martin.

NEWS AND VIEWS

SLOW START COSTLY, SAYS STEVEN

Steven Pienaar believes the team have only themselves to blame after the 1-2 loss to PAOK in the Europa League on Wednesday.

The midfielder told Spurs TV Online after the match that going two goals down within 15 minutes of the match starting cost the team dearly.

"The poor start was down to us. When you start a game you have to be sharp, we weren't sharp enough. We had a few opportunities but their defence was outstanding, even though we were camping in their half.

"If you start the game so poorly, you're always going to be chasing. I think we have to compliment PAOK, they were well organised, but we had some good chances. And if you don't take your chances, you always end up losing the game."

Despite the loss, Steven was pleased to get some playing time on his first appearance since the match against Rubin Kazan at the beginning of November.

The 29-year-old picked up a groin injury in pre-season and is slowly recovering after having surgery to correct the problem.

"It's getting better every day, I was a bit stiff at half-time but I'm happy to get minutes on the pitch."

FA CUP DRAW TOMORROW

The draw for the FA Cup third round will take place tomorrow, as Premier League and Championship sides enter the competition. We are ball number 39 in the draw, which takes place at around 2.40pm and will be live on ITV1.

Third round ties are scheduled to take place over the weekend of January 7 and 8.

HARRY AND SCOTT WIN MONTHLY HONOURS

Harry Redknapp and Scott Parker have once again been successful in the monthly awards handed out by league sponsors Barclays.

The November honours were announced yesterday and, for the second time this season, Harry has been named Barclays Manager of the Month, while Scott has been awarded the Player of the Month accolade, his first of the campaign.

The honours come following a month which saw us win all three of our league matches - 3-1 away wins at Fulham and West Brom and a 2-0 home success against Aston Villa, with England midfielder Scott in inspirational form in each one.

Harry has already scooped the September manager of the month award this season and this current accolade marks the eighth time in his management career that he has won the award. Scott has been player of the month once before.

20 YEARS OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE

This year the Premier League turns 20, so to celebrate we look back over our previous campaigns in the competition. This week we reflect on 1997-98.

From a neutral perspective, the 1997-98 campaign was one to remember simply for the drama it created at both ends of the table.

What with the winds of change slowing blowing through White Hart Lane, it proved a difficult year in N17 as we would finish 14th, just four points clear of the drop zone.

Elsewhere, though, not only did the title race go down to the wire, as Arsenal pipped Manchester United to Premier League glory by a solitary point, at the foot of the table, proceedings were equally dramatic after Everton's draw with Coventry City saw them narrowly retain their top flight status by virtue of their superior goal difference over an unfortunate Bolton Wanderers in a breathtaking season finale.

Indeed, it was 1997-98's final day that defined what, up to that point, was one of the finest seasons the Premier League had seen.

Heading into the games, Bolton were in pole position to avoid the drop. Leading Everton by a point, all they needed was to match the Toffees' result to secure their Premier League status for another campaign.

But all that was on paper and what with the Trotters travelling to Stamford Bridge to face an in-form Chelsea, who themselves would

Les Ferdinand, Jurgen Klinsmann, and David Ginola were a threat throughout 1997-98

FAN'S VIEW – SIMON BARCLAY, IPSWICH

We had a pretty miserable season in all honesty, but in hindsight I think the club was laying the foundations for what we would later achieve so I guess you could say the 1997-98 season, and those immediately after, were a period of transition for us.

As a football fan, though, I still enjoyed the season as a whole and it was a great build-up to the World Cup in France.

My highlight has to be the 6-2 thrashing of Wimbledon. We hadn't got too many good results that year, so to win so emphatically so close to the end of the season gave us fans a massive release on the terraces.

As always, Jurgen Klinsmann was on fire and scored four – it was a great moment.

• If you would like us to feature your memories from 1998-99 in the Sunderland programme, email them to programme@tottenhamhotspur.com by December 13, putting Premier League Years in the subject line.

eventually finish fourth, it was far from a foregone conclusion for both clubs caught in the relegation scrap.

Everton, with the entire blue half of Merseyside behind them, raced into the lead against Coventry when Gareth Farrelly fired them ahead after seven minutes to temporarily leap frog the Trotters into 17th spot.

The release of tension throughout Goodison Park as the net rippled was palpable. The stadium erupted in joy, but with each passing minute, that very tension would slowly return.

Bolton were putting up a fight at Stamford Bridge and both sets of fans knew another goal could swing it in either teams' favour. A

20 YEARS OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE

Bolton strike would put them back in control, while an equaliser for Coventry at Goodison would also send Everton tumbling back into the drop zone. The Toffees needed another goal to make their result a little more comfortable at least, but it just wouldn't come.

It was on a knife's edge and in typical fashion, there was still time for one last twist in the tale.

Dion Dublin, the former Cambridge United and Manchester United striker, had been in the form of his life throughout 1997-98 and he was on a personal mission, desperately searching for the goal that could see him awarded the Premier League's golden boot winner. And he got the reward his endeavours deserved – eventually.

Were it a Hollywood movie, the sound of the clock running down would have reverberated across Goodison Park, each tick at a time. The crowd would have been muted and Dublin's effort would have passed through the air in slow motion, time dramatically speeding up as the ball nestled in the back of the net for his 18th of the campaign.

It was the 89th minute and just as the champagne corks were ready to pop, Everton faced a gut-wrenching next few minutes.

Bolton themselves were trailing Chelsea 1-0, but as the news of Dublin's goal filtered through in west London, they went all out in search of their equaliser. They couldn't get it though and with men pushing forward, the Blues broke away to eventually bring the relegation fight to an end through a Jody Morris strike.

It was a fantastic end to another fantastic season and as our form picked up in the closing stages, it proved just as entertaining at the Lane.

Jurgen Klinsmann was already a hero in N17 and his return to the Premier League on loan from Sampdoria simply added to his legend.

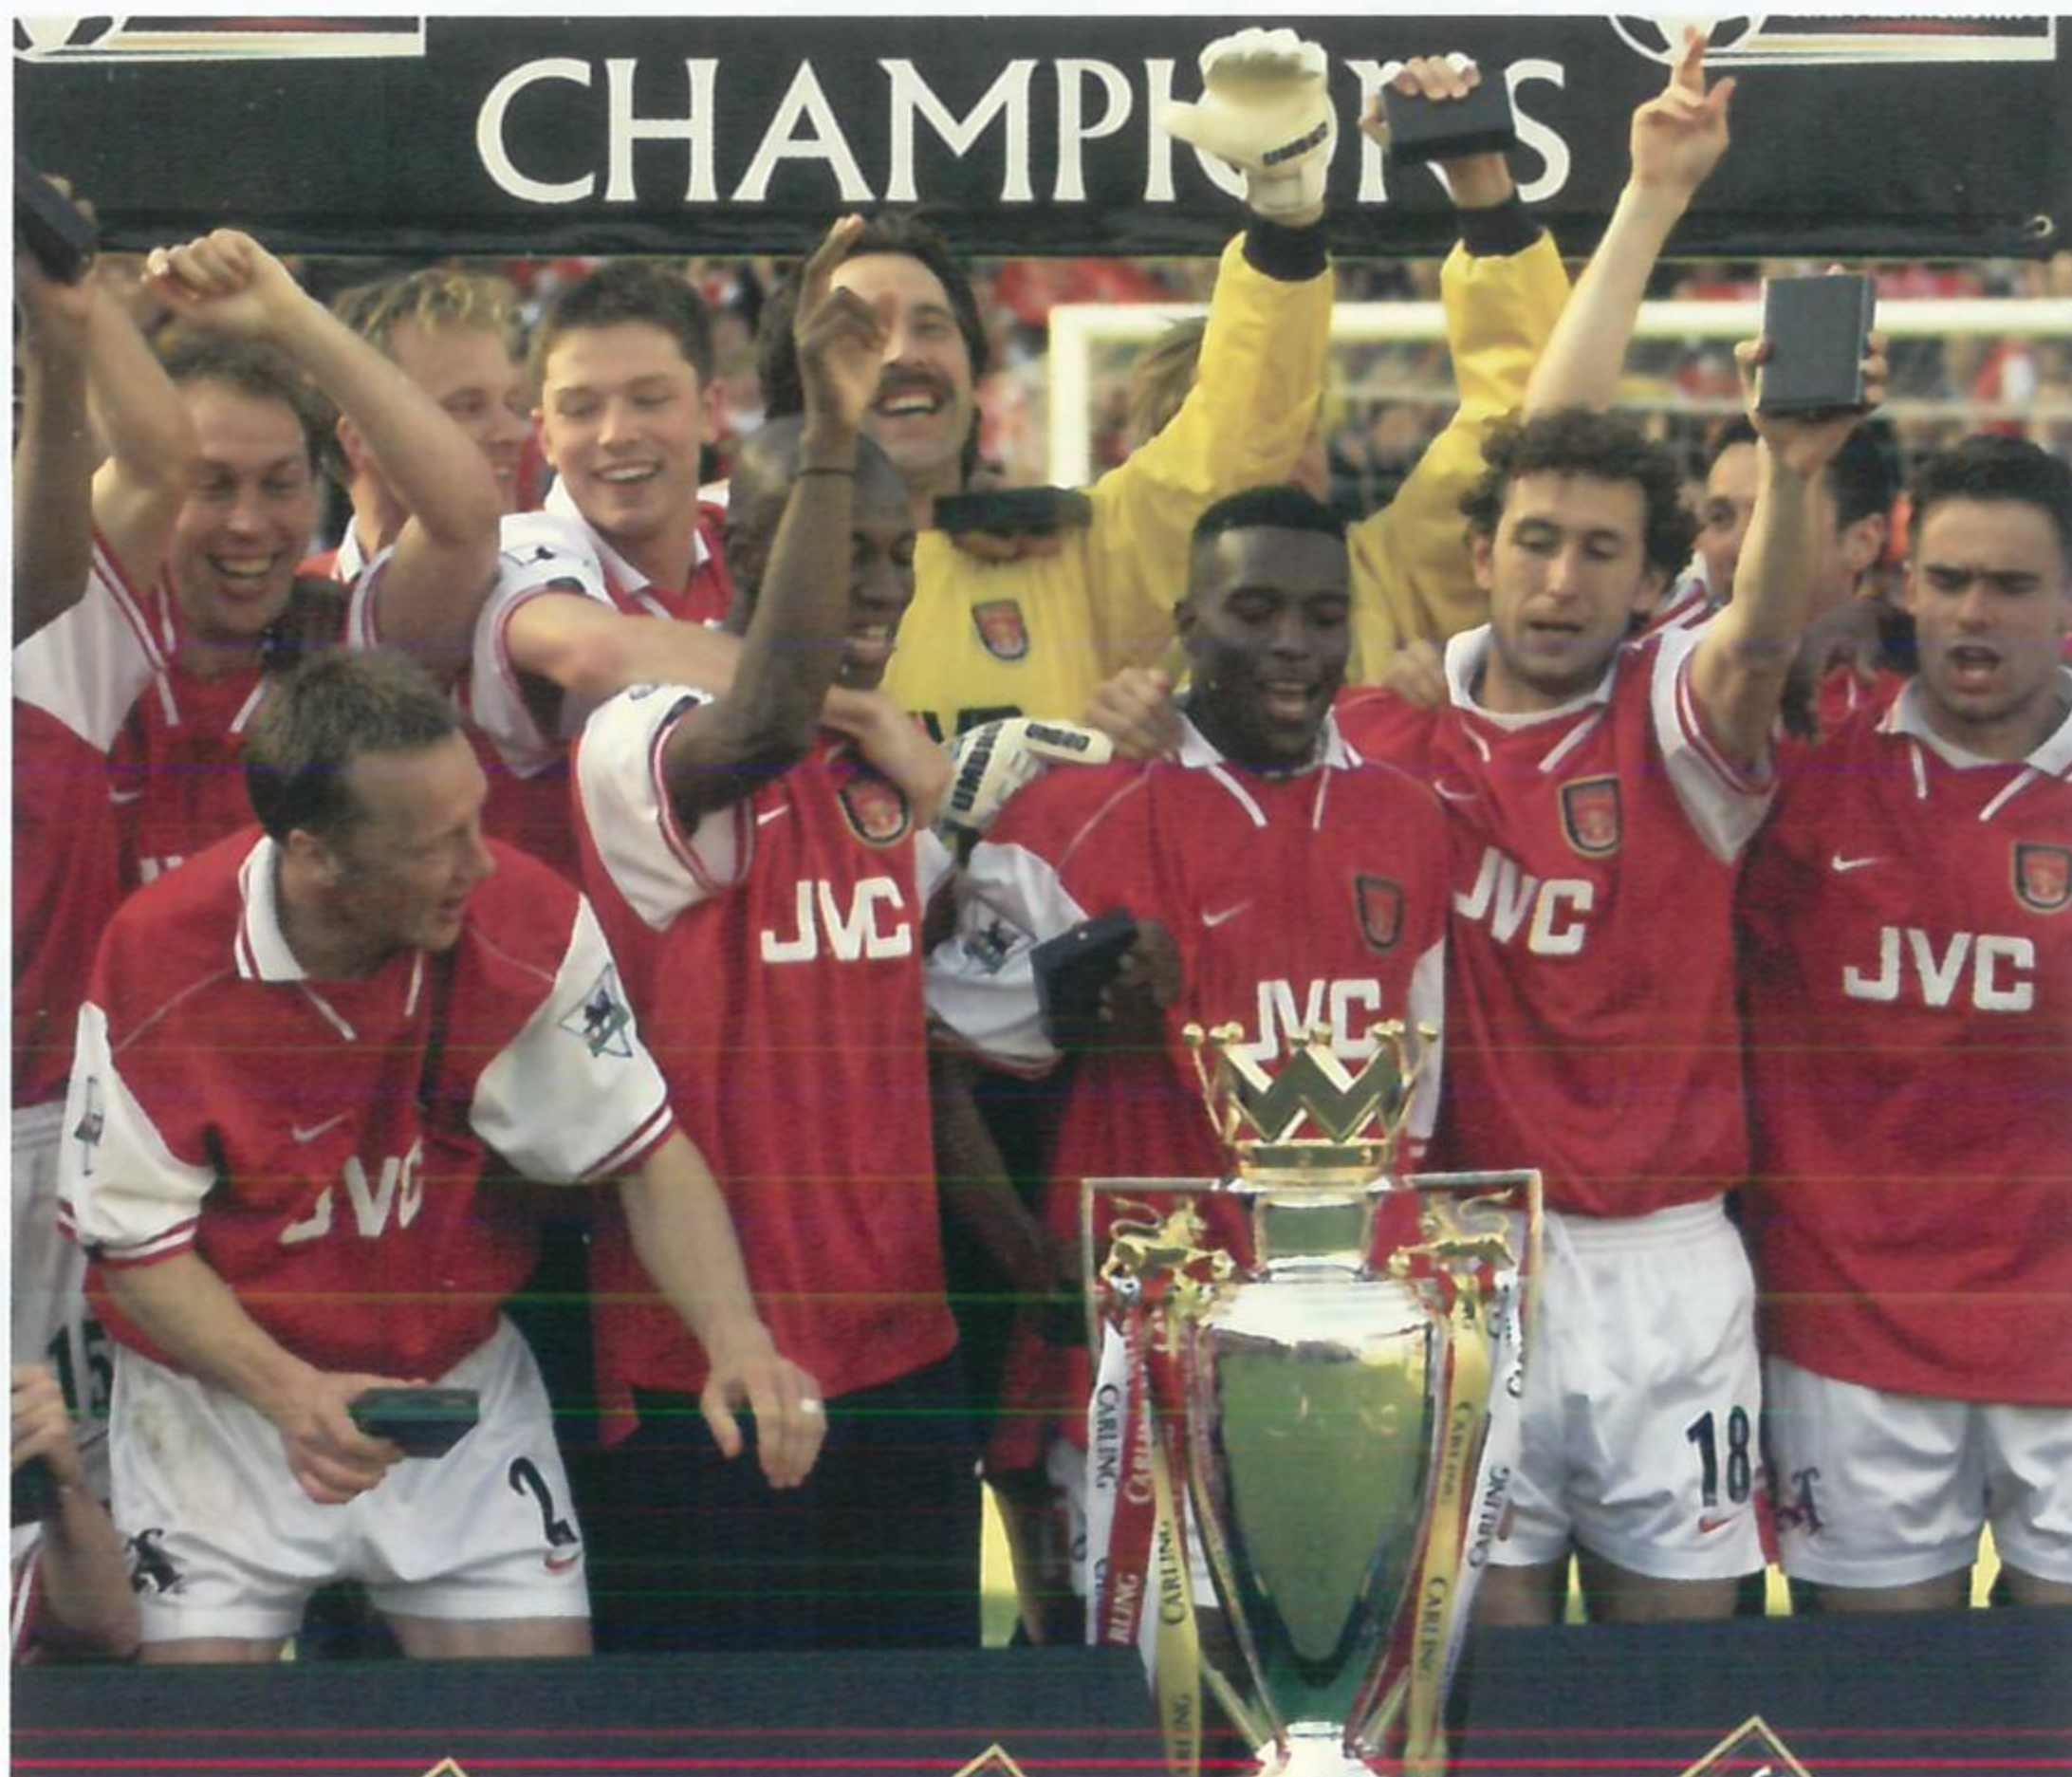

The loss of Teddy Sheringham to Manchester United the previous summer had left a void in attack and the German's presence ensured we avoided joining Everton and Bolton in their scrap at the bottom, as he scored nine goals in 15 games.

Given his status at the Lane, it was fitting his final game in club football came in N17 as we drew 1-1 with Southampton. A week earlier he had smashed four past Wimbledon, but it's perhaps his strike against Southampton that is more fondly remembered as he bid farewell.

JURGEN'S JUST FOUR-MIDABLE, WIMBLEDON V SPURS, MAY 2, 1998

For all his magical moments at Spurs, one summer's day at Selhurst Park with us at wrong end of the Premier League table, defined Jurgen Klinsmann's second spell at the club.

The team went into the final three matches of the league campaign hovering dangerously just above the relegation zone.

It looked bleak as we trailed 1-0 into the first of those crunch games at fellow-strugglers Barnsley before, thankfully, Colin Calderwood dug out an equaliser.

Newcastle were then crucially beaten at home as the Klinsmann/Les Ferdinand strike partnership clicked in the nick of time, both scoring in a 2-0 win at the Lane.

Of all the teams you would want to play next, fighting for your lives, Wimbledon would be way down the list.

But we travelled to the Dons' then-home, Selhurst Park, on May 2, 1998, for the penultimate match of the season with relegation still a realistic threat.

Things weren't exactly looking bright early on, either, as Peter Fear struck twice for the Dons and we found ourselves 2-1 down.

Jurgen struck just before the break for 2-2 and then things turned our way. Ben Thatcher was sent off and Jurgen scored three goals in the space of six minutes to put the match – and our safety – beyond any doubt. Moussa Saib added the sixth late on.

"Everyone was under pressure and the whole environment was nervous but we pulled together at Wimbledon and eventually climbed up the table," Jurgen recalled of the day. "It was great at Wimbledon. We breathed a sign of relief afterwards. It helped me to do what I planned, to help Spurs get away from relegation and also help myself get into shape for the World Cup. It worked out perfectly. The World Cup went well as well and I then had a clean conscience to say 'okay guys, that's it' and I retired after the tournament."

VIEW FROM THE FANS...

My favourite moment was the win over Wimbledon in May, 1998. I was nervous because Spurs weren't doing so well that season and really needed the win that day. I was over in Germany at that time and had the radio tuned to British Forces which had coverage of the match. But it was a very stormy day and every time we got the ball up near the Wimbledon goal there would be thunder and lightning and I was left hanging out the window of my apartment trying to get a signal without getting struck by lightning. Needless to say I was delighted with Klinsmann that day! Gillian Sullivan, via email

PAST TIMES

Club Historian Andy Porter reflects on previous meetings with today's opponents.

The two clubs met here 10 years ago today in a Monday evening fixture. Glenn Hoddle and Sam Allardyce were the respective managers as we shaded a close game with a 3-2 victory. Michael Ricketts gave Bolton an eighth minute lead which they defended doggedly until the interval. The half time introduction of Les Ferdinand and Goran Bunjevcevic - for Steffen Freund and Chris Perry - proved to be a masterstroke. Just 72 seconds after the restart a Ferdinand header rebounded from the far post for Gustavo Poyet to head us level. Little more than a minute later Bunjevcevic set up Ferdinand to finish past Jussi Jaaskelainen. Rod Wallace made it 2-2 in the 56th minute and it was not until five minutes from time that Teddy Sheringham glanced home a header from a Christian Ziege free kick.

We visited Bolton's old Burnden Park arena for December encounters in both 1962 and 1963. The home side had the better of the first half on December 8, 1962, with Wyn Davies and Peter Deakin going close and Freddie Hill skimming Bill Brown's crossbar with a couple of lively efforts. We dominated after the break with Les Allen going close and Jimmy Greaves seeing one effort rebound from the crossbar. The winner came a few minutes from time when Hill provided the pass for Deakin to side step a defender and slot home.

Our next visit on December 7, 1963, was sandwiched between the two legs of our European Cup-Winners' Cup tie with Manchester United. We went ahead on 10 minutes when Dave Mackay played in Terry Dyson with a 30-yard diagonal pass. Dyson's centre found Greaves' head and Syd Farrimond inadvertently volleyed into his own goal. Wanderers levelled through Davies before Greaves notched his 200th Football League goal. Mackay set him up to finish with a left foot shot. Our third after the interval saw Cliff Jones break away and Greaves' deft flick was volleyed in by Dyson. Greaves missed a penalty shortly afterwards.

The first top flight meeting between the two clubs took place here on December 11, 1909. Both had gained promotion from Division Two the previous season, Wanderers as champions despite us beating them both at home and away. Bert Baverstock scored their goal in a 1-1 draw here with Billy Minter netting for us. We finished in 15th place with 32 points from 38 games, three more than Chelsea who were relegated along with Bolton.

Frank Drabble (pictured) featured in goal for both clubs either side of the Great War. A schoolmaster by profession, he turned out for seven clubs in Football League action between 1909 and 1924.

Born at Southport on July 8, 1888, Frank Drabble played for Blowick Wesleyans and Southport YMCA in the Southport & District League. He was spotted by us when keeping goal for Lancashire versus London at Park Royal during season 1908-09. Taken on as a trialist during July, 1909, he signed professional three months later.

His first game in our colours was for the reserve team against Hastings & St. Leonard's on September 4 in a South Eastern League fixture. He made four first team appearances; at Reading in a friendly match on September 29; at Preston on October 23 in a First Division game which was abandoned after 50 minutes due to rain; at home to Notts County in the top flight a week later; and in a 3-0 home win over Woolwich Arsenal on November 1 in the London Professional Football Charity Fund match. In addition, he played in 25 South Eastern League games, making his final appearance versus Chelsea on April 30, 1910.

Drabble went on to feature for Nottingham Forest (eight appearances), Burnley (two) and Bradford Park Avenue (32) in the Football League prior to the Great War and turned out for Fulham in wartime matches.

He was Bolton's regular goalkeeper during 1919-20 making 28 appearances and added one further game the following season before spending 1921-22 with Southport, adding five games to his League tally. His final two games of Football League action were for Queens Park Rangers during March, 1924.

Frank Drabble passed away at Staines on July 29, 1964.

DAVIES GET SANDRO'S MOST DIFFICULT OPPONENT VOTE

Since arriving in the Premier League last season, Sandro has come up against many quality midfielders of international renown. And whether their forte is a playmaking role, or they are in there for a battle, our boy from Brazil is ready to take them all on.

With so many high calibre opponents to choose from, Sandro gives the matter a lot of thought when asked who has been the toughest opponent he's faced since coming to England.

And his answer is a surprising one because today's visit by Bolton to White Hart Lane reminds him of the man who have given him the most trouble to date.

"It's a difficult question...there are so many choices and midfield is a strong position with English teams," he says.

"One I would mention is Bolton's Kevin Davies. I have not marked him directly because he plays in attack but he often drops deep and is a very strong opponent. I am glad to leave him to our central defenders!"

Read the full interview with Sandro in the December issue of Hotspur magazine where the Brazilian international talks of his optimism for the remainder of this season with Spurs - and recalls how he played Santa to the Gomes family last year!

And one lucky reader will win a signed pair of his match boots in our latest free-to-enter competition.

We also ask a group of our players - including Scott Parker and Brad Friedel - what they want from the festive season this year.

Both Michael Dawson and Tom Carroll remembered their excitement when they received bicycles at Christmas as youngsters while the present Jake Livermore cherished was...a pair of socks!

Jermain Defoe takes a full page to tell us why he loves Christmas so much. Both Parker and Luka Modric talk of their respect for each other's game that makes them such a top midfielder partnership. And coach Joe Jordan returns to answers your questions and tells of his admiration for fellow Scots Dave Mackay and Alan Gilzean.

He'll certainly find a few people who share that respect for the two tartan internationals at White Hart Lane!

Our celebrity fan this month is super chef Antony Worrall Thompson who was one of the legion of supporters first attracted to the club by our great Double side. Ossie Ardiles pays tribute to Kyle Walker's emergence as a high quality right-back and recalls a night at Swansea when legendary hard man Tommy Smith gave him a special welcome to Wales!

We look back on six occasions when we played the same opposition on both Christmas Day and Boxing Day, starting in 1911 when we hammered Woolwich Arsenal 5-0!

Young striker Harry Kane answers the questions in our popular 'Box2Box' feature where he admits that Westlife play a part in his musical life. "I hear they are disbanding so maybe they should give me a go," he says!

And Benoit Assou-Ekotto does the same in our 'High Fives' session and insists that he has never seen a better goal than the one he scored against Liverpool at White Hart Lane! He also admits that he loves the Simpsons!

We catch up with Ian Walker, the current manager at Bishop's Stortford; with Tony Galvin as he prepares to take to the field with our Legends team; and look back on the Spurs career of Mike England.

It's all in the December issue of Hotspur, our official monthly magazine. And don't forget that a Hotspur subscription makes the ideal Christmas present for any Spurs supporter!

GOLDEN DUO

Emmanuel Adebayor and Scott Parker have been a revelation since arriving at the club in August.

Touch wood, neither player has yet featured on the losing side in a Spurs shirt – testament to the impact they’ve had on a team that is on an outstanding run of nine wins and a draw from the last 10 matches in the Premier League.

Scott’s all-action style in midfield has really caught the supporters’ eye – he’s been voted Player of the Month by our fans voting on Spurs Xtra, Facebook and Twitter in both months he’s been at the club so far. And he is also Barclay’s Player of the Month for November.

Meanwhile, it’s not just the fans he’s impressed. His team mates certainly agree – particularly Adebayor and Jermain Defoe.

“Scott’s a great player, you can take him into battle,” says Emmanuel.

“He’s always there. When you need a tackle, he’s there. If someone tries to shoot, he’s there. It’s amazing having a player like that.”

The feeling is certainly mutual from Scott, who was full of admiration for Ade after he bagged two goals in last week’s 3-1 win at West Brom.

That made it four goals in his last two league matches following another double against Villa last time out at the Lane.

“I rate him as a world-class player and we have all seen that since he has been here,” says Scott. “One thing you are guaranteed with Manny as well as his goals is his overall contribution to the team which has been first class.

“He is a real joy to be around. He is one of those happy-go-lucky characters and always someone you want to be around. He has a good vibe around him and a good mood.”

Jermain Defoe scored the key second goal at The Hawthorns and he added words of praise for both players.

“Ade’s playing with energy and weighing in with his goals too,” said JD. “Scotty Parker has come in and made a massive difference with his energy and professionalism. He’s the missing link. He’s someone we have needed for a number of years now.”

SEASON REVIEW

THRASHING QPR 4-0 at Loftus Road on the opening day of the season, many expected Bolton Wanderers to sustain a challenge for European qualification in the league this term. But since then, an injury list that continues to grow with every week it would seem, has severely dented Owen Coyle's aspirations for 2011-12, leaving his side struggling at the wrong end of the table. However, despite the gloom that inevitably comes with the team's current woes, Bolton have remained vigilant and continue to play with the positive approach that has won Coyle so many admirers during his time at the Reebok Stadium and previously with Burnley. They convincingly overcame Stoke City 5-0 recently and that result was a sign of what the Trotters are capable of when on form.

MANAGER

OWEN COYLE

IT was during a two-year spell with Burnley where Owen Coyle grabbed English football's attention in the dug out having cut his managerial teeth with Falkirk and St. Johnstone in the SPL.

Being appointed manager at Turf Moor in November, 2007, he made an instant impact, helping the team climb the table before winning promotion to the Premier League in the following season.

It wasn't just that Burnley had won promotion that saw the plaudits reign down on Coyle, however, it was the way in which his team did it, playing a brand of football not commonly associated with the Championship.

Indeed, he also took Burnley to the Carling Cup semi-final in 2009, where we eventually beat them over two legs.

He joined Bolton in January, 2010, steering them clear of relegation before slowly changing the club's philosophy. For sure, they remain a work in progress, but the future certainly looks bright despite their current position.

JUSSI JAASKELAINEN

THE notion of a testimonial game has somewhat been lost in the modern era, but with 15 years at Bolton, the Finnish stopper is well passed the required decade's service to qualify. He joined the Trotters in 1997 and has been a fine servant of the club.

GOALKEEPER

DOB: 19/04/1975

ADAM BOGDAN

GIVEN his shirt number, the 24-year-old is Bolton's number one, but were it not for Jussi Jaaskelainen, there is no doubting he would be the preferred choice between the sticks for Bolton. Joined from Hungarian side Vasas in 2007 and has been on loan with Crewe.

GOALKEEPER

DOB: 27/09/1987

2 GRETAR STEINSSON

AN Icelandic international since his teenage years, the right-back arrived in the Premier League in 2008, joining Bolton from Dutch club AZ Alkmaar. He has over 100 appearances for the club since and is a key figure at the back.

DEFENDER DOB: 09/01/1982

4 PAUL ROBINSON

FORMERLY of Watford and West Bromwich Albion, the defender initially joined Bolton from the Baggies on a season-long loan in 2009 before making his move permanent a year later. Can play anywhere across the back four.

DEFENDER DOB: 14/12/1978

5 GARY CAHILL

HAVING come through the ranks at Aston Villa, the 25-year-old joined the Trotters in 2008 in search of first-team football. It has proved an inspired move, too, with him becoming an England international and one of the most sought-after defenders in the Premier League. He has continued to thrive this season and should his many suitors get their man, he'll prove a big loss to Owen Coyle's side.

DEFENDER DOB: 19/12/1985

12 ZAT KNIGHT

CAPPED twice by England, the Solihull-born defender has been a regular in the Premier League for over a decade with Fulham, Aston Villa and now Bolton, whom he joined in 2009 from the Villans. At 6ft 7in, he is an imposing figure.

DEFENDER DOB: 02/05/1980

25 DEDRYCK BOYATA

CURRENTLY on loan from Manchester City, the young Belgian has demonstrated the talent at his disposal in Bolton colours this term, also scoring once for the Trotters. He joined City in 2006 and has one cap for his country.

DEFENDER DOB: 28/11/1980

LEGEND

JAY JAY OKOCHA

MIDFIELDER
2002 - 2006

HAVING turned out for the likes of Fenerbahce and Paris St. Germain, it is fair to say a few eyebrows were raised when Sam Allardyce snapped up Jay Jay Okocha in 2002.

Then aged 29, some onlookers suggested his best years were behind him, but reinvigorated by 'Big Sam' and life at the Reebok, he rediscovered his best form and became a revelation for the club.

Although he was hampered by injury during his first season, the crowd warmed to his talents immediately with the slogan: Jay Jay - he's so good, they named him twice, becoming a regular sight emblazoned on replica shirts across the town.

He also scored a vital goal against West Ham to help the club steer clear of relegation. It was named Goal of the Season at the club and in vote in 2008, it was also named Bolton's best goal of the Premier League era.

He was later named captain, leading the Trotters to the League Cup Final in 2004 where they eventually lost to Middlesbrough.

He retired in 2008 with 73 international caps for Nigeria.

In 1905 the cycling track around Burnden Park was removed to make room for more spectators.

28

GAEL KAKUTA

ANOTHER of Bolton's loan stars, the Frenchman will be hoping a season with the Trotters will do for him what six months did for his Chelsea teammate Daniel Sturridge last term. A France Under-21 star, the 20-year-old is an exceptional talent.

MIDFIELDER

MICHAEL O'HALLORAN

THE former Celtic man is yet to make a senior performance for Bolton this term, but he has appeared on the bench for Owen Coyle's side. He joined this summer and brings with him a glowing reputation from Scotland.

TUNCAY

IT has been a frustrating few seasons for the Turkish international as he struggled to settle at Stoke and parent club Wolfsburg. He joined Bolton on loan this summer and when on form, he is deadly in front of goal.

Former grounds included Park Rec and Cockle's Field before they moved to Pike's Lane in 1881.

07

When the FA Cup Final was moved to Wembley in 1923, Bolton won the first Final there, beating West Ham United 2-0.

08

Legendary England centre-forward Nat Lofthouse was the club's record goalscorer with 285 senior goals between 1946-61.

09

Bolton qualified for European football for the first time in their 131-year history when they played in the UEFA Cup in season 2005-06.

Bolton have lifted the FA Cup four times – in 1923, 1926, 1929 and 1958. That last triumph saw them defeat Manchester United thanks to two Lofthouse goals.

12

Their record FA Cup victory saw them beat Sheffield United 13-0 at the second round stage on February 1, 1890. Bolton's record defeat had been a 9-1 loss to Preston North End at the same stage just over two years before.

13

Season 1996-97 was one of records for Bolton on their way to the Championship title. They scored their most ever league goals (100) in a campaign, recorded their most points (98) and the most wins in a season (28).

15

Spurs and Bolton were promoted together from the old Division Two at the end of season 1977-78. The Trotters went up as Champions while we were third behind Southampton.

16

Both sides won their home league games 1-0 that season while Bolton knocked us out of the FA Cup after extra time at Burnden Park in a third round replay. Our league win over them saw former Bolton defender Don McAllister score our goal.

17

South African international Mark Fish was their most capped player with 62. Eddie Hopkinson (1956-1970) remains their record league appearance maker with 519 games to his credit.

18

In season 2001-02, Bolton played here three times in two months, lost all three and conceded 13 goals as we beat them in the league and knocked them out of both domestic cups. Les Ferdinand scored a hat-trick when we beat them 6-0 here in the League Cup.

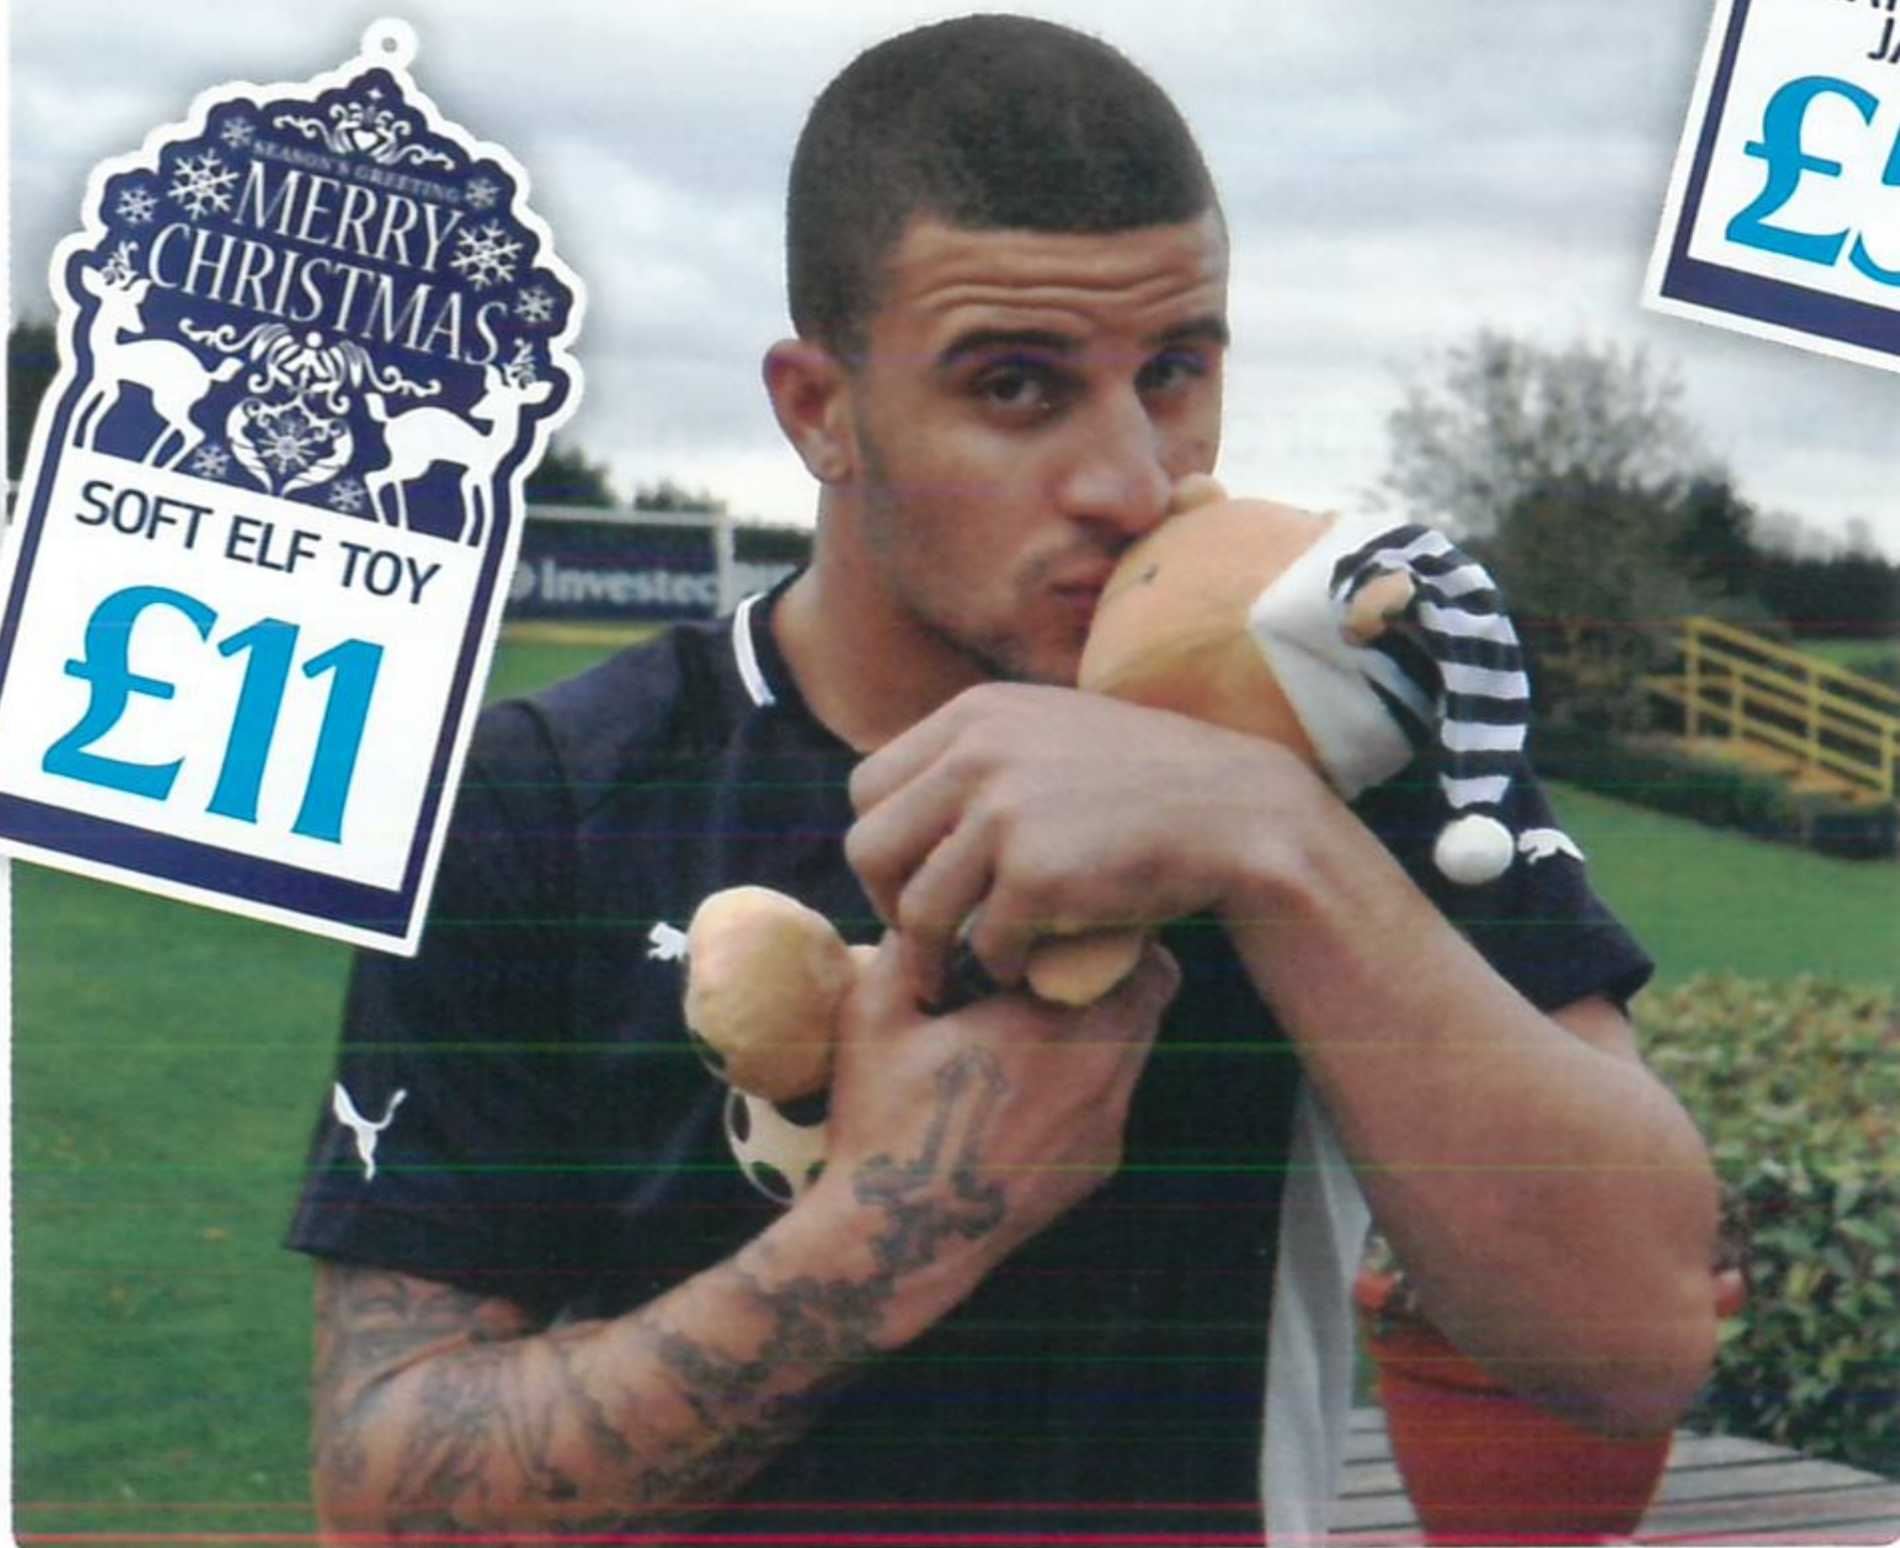

19

Our former Icelandic international Gudni Bergsson left us for Bolton where he played between 1994-2003 and went on to captain the side.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY PETER BAKER

Our Double-winning defender celebrates his 80th birthday on December 10. In wishing him all the best, we look back on the wonderful career of a one-club man who deservedly enjoyed the respect of team mates, opponents and supporters alike. BY JOHN FENNELLY.

Congratulations to Peter Baker, our 'Double' winning right-back, who celebrates his 80th birthday next Saturday and is at today's game.

Peter will be joined by his wife Linda and members of their family from South Africa and Australia as guests of the Club in a West Stand executive box.

Baker was a key element of our legendary 1960-61 side and played an important defensive role as we lifted both League title and FA Cup in that never-to-be-forgotten campaign.

He missed just the one game that season as he again demonstrated the consistency that was such an essential part of our great side. He even chipped in with a goal at Burnley but his job was to defend and he did that with aplomb.

Very much a player's player whose immense worth was highly regarded by his team mates and fellow professionals, he was always solid under pressure, decisive in his decision making and tackled crisply.

Brought up in nearby Enfield where he still lives, Peter was also extremely loyal, having joined us as an amateur back in June, 1949. And, although he faced the major challenge of having to replace England regular Alf Ramsey at right-back, he stepped up for his debut at Sunderland in April, 1953, and would go on to make 342 senior appearances for us.

He played in an era of some exceptional wingers and that put even more responsibility on him, together with the fact that he also had to cover for Danny Blanchflower whose natural and highly-regarded game had such an attacking bias that his absence could leave us open on the counter on our right side.

In that respect, Peter's pace was crucial, not just in marking an equally fleet opponent but in ensuring that his powers of recovery rarely found him out of position. He was also strong enough in the air to help out in central defence where his bravery was marked in situations where the boots flew and decisiveness was demanded.

Peter (extreme left) enjoys a smile with his team mates during a photocall ahead of our 1962 FA Cup Final.

Peter Baker with Danny Blanchflower and Ron Reynolds, aboard the train for Liverpool at Euston Station in May, 1957.

This is how our recently published official book '61 - The Spurs Double' summed up Peter Baker's contribution to our cause:

"Baker's efficiency, positioning and assured use of the ball provided the calm resolution in defence that ensured none of the fireworks up front went to waste. His preference for playing a short pass...was ideal for the team's push-and-run style.

"In a team liberally served with individual brilliance his talent was often overlooked. This was as much to do with his unassuming character as with his playing style. Baker was perfectly content to simply get on with the job.

"He was such an accomplished defender, necessitating a level of consistency that his manager valued. He certainly fitted Bill Nick's template, boasting character, composure, tactical know-how and technical skill coupled with physical strength and stamina."

Such was his contribution that Peter was virtually immovable from the side as we went on to retain the FA Cup in 1962 and then became the first British side to win a European trophy when we lifted the European Cup Winners' Cup the following year.

He was also versatile - and even went in goal in 1959 when John Hollowbread was injured at Birmingham. Yet how he was overlooked for senior England international honours is hard to fathom - although he was unfortunate to be playing in the same era as Jimmy Armfield, himself an acknowledged admirer of our Double side.

Peter left us in 1965 when he moved to South Africa and managed Durban United but he returned to Enfield in recent years and remains a regular and welcome visitor to White Hart Lane.

"Yes great days," agreed Peter this week as he looked back on his Double experience. "I had a wonderful career at Spurs and played with some tremendous players.

"I still watch the present day side play and enjoy it. They are a good side so I am looking forward to another good game today."

We continue to wish Peter and his family well.

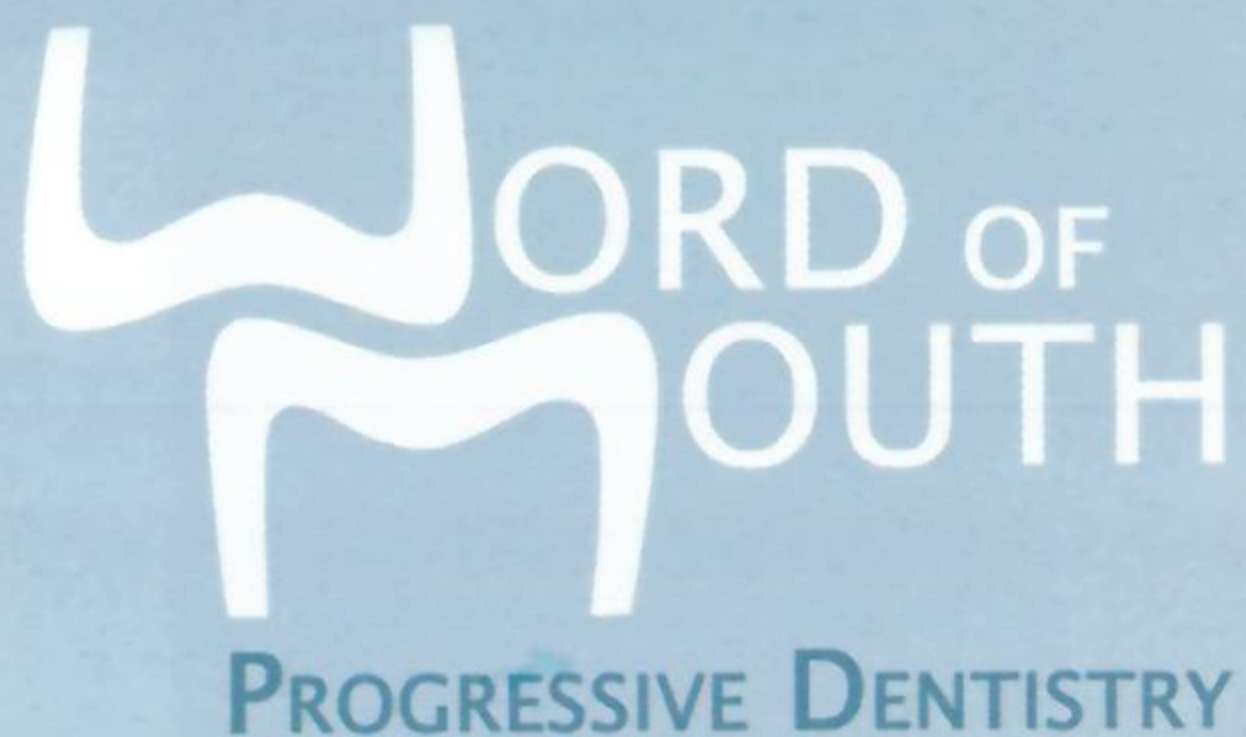

KABOUL FIGHTER!

French international Younes Kaboul has been at the forefront of our recent fine form, an immovable object in our solid defence. And he says there is much more to come.

Ever-present in our Premier League campaign so far, Younes Kaboul has been a key figure in our fine run over the last 10 games – but insists this has to be the beginning of something special rather than resting on our laurels.

The tall, commanding centre-half is playing some of the best football of a career which started back home in France with Auxerre, brought him to the Lane in July, 2007, saw him depart for Portsmouth a year later before then returning to N17 in January, 2010.

He has been outstanding this season, looking every bit the international player he now is, having broken into the French national side during the summer, scoring on his debut in a friendly defeat to Ukraine in June. And the fact that Younes has played every minute of our 12 Premier League matches to date has certainly paid dividends, with the player looking more assured and confident with every passing game.

In fact Younes isn't alone in being a regular this term. Brad Friedel, Benoit Assou-Ekotto and Gareth Bale have played all 12 games, Kyle Walker has missed just one, while Scott Parker and Emmanuel Adebayor have featured in all 10 league games since they arrived in August.

From a defensive point of view, the back five of Brad, Kyle, Benoit, Younes and skipper Ledley King have started nine of the last 10 games – surely no coincidence that we have remained unbeaten over the course of those matches, winning nine and drawing one.

A solid defence is the ideal foundation on which to build a team and Harry Redknapp has certainly adhered to that this term – and we are fortunate to have such quality in that area on standby including the likes of William Gallas, Sebastien Bassong, Vedran Corluka, goalkeepers Carlo Cudicini and Heurlho Gomes, not to mention the injured Michael Dawson.

So it is no surprise when Younes talks in glowing terms of his team-mates, both collectively and individually, even if such strength in depth means he needs to be on top form every time he crosses that white line.

"Without any question, this is the best squad we have had since I first joined Spurs," said the 25-year-old. "We have so many great players here, it is a pleasure to be a part of it at the contemporary tailoring, made to measure or ready to wear moment. The competition for places is so fierce, there is always someone waiting to take your place but that is the way of football at every club. More competition is good because it makes you work harder.

"I have played every game in the league and I feel good, I am enjoying myself and I always say that every time you get a chance in this team, you have to try to do your best and make the most of the opportunity. That is what I try every time I play and I am happy with the way things are going.

"The team is doing well and in this squad, everyone is on the same level. No-one is trying to be bigger or better than anyone else and that certainly helps. We all fight for each other, we have a strong mentality at the moment and when you have that, anything is possible," continued Kaboul, who believes the next game is always the most important.

"Of course we are on a great run of results but the most difficult thing now will be to keep it going. For any team to win nine out of 10 matches in this division is good, but that's in the past now and we just want to win the next one, and the one after that."

While this sequence of results is naturally down to the team as a whole, Younes admits that as a defender, it is great to have the likes of Ledley alongside him and the midfield shield of Scott ahead of him, helping us to become a difficult side to penetrate.

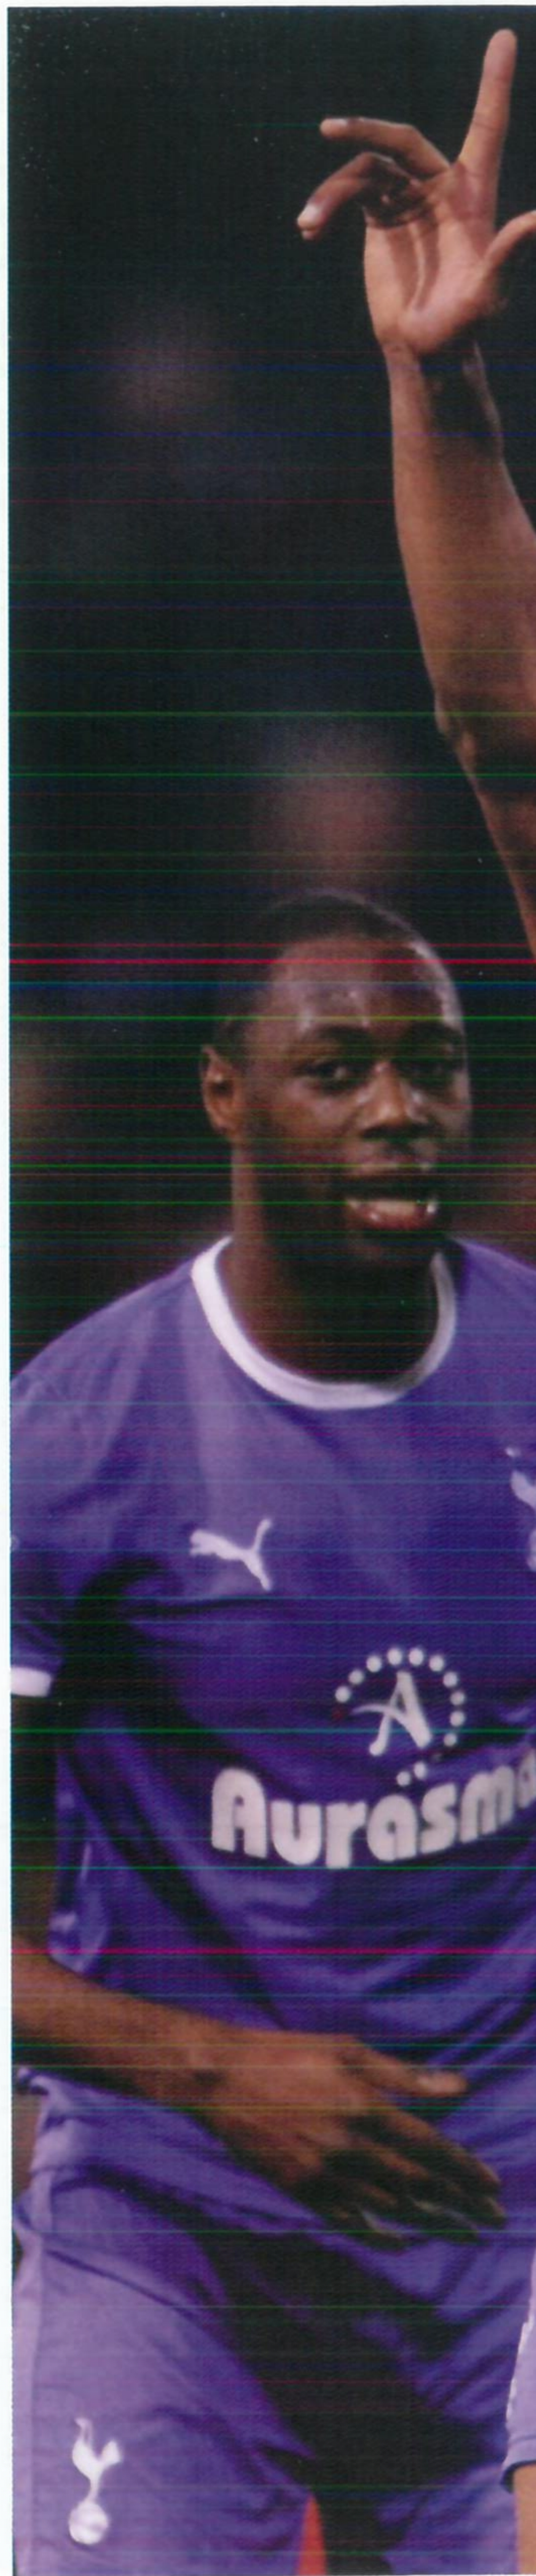

"For me, Ledley is a top class defender, in fact I would say he is the best England defender since Bobby Moore, he is that good," enthuses Younes. "He is a player who has the club running through his blood and it is such a shame he has had his injury problems.

"But even though he doesn't train much in the week, we have known each other a long time now since I first arrived here and we know our games very well, so when we go out onto the pitch, we work well together.

"As for Scott, I cannot believe more clubs didn't come in for him in the summer, but I'm glad they didn't! They missed out because he is world class, I'm very happy he came here to join us because he adds a lot of quality to our squad.

"I'm not just talking about football either. Everyone knows he is a good footballer but outside of the game, he is a good person too, a great example for everyone."

Following early season defeats to the two Manchester clubs – currently the only sides now above us in the table – Younes reveals that the squad got together after the subsequent international break to discuss the situation which saw us bottom of the table with no points from two games and a hefty goals against tally.

Confidence was low and with a tough trip to Wolves next on the fixture list, it would have been easy for negative thoughts to develop. But that was never allowed to happen.

"We had two difficult games to begin with and we made a bad start, but after that when we all came back from playing internationals, we had a good chat and just made sure we all knew what was required to get back on track," he explained. "Confidence could have suffered but we didn't allow that to happen.

"To then go and win so well at Wolves was the perfect response and we have just pushed on from there and kept that momentum going."

Next up this afternoon is the visit of Bolton Wanderers, always tough opponents but a team that are currently struggling in the league. However, their predicament just makes them an even more dangerous side and Kaboul knows we have in the past sometimes found it difficult to overcome such teams.

"Last season we had a few disappointing results here against teams that we really should have beaten and we must make sure we don't let that happen today," he said.

"In this division, the team at the bottom can beat the team at the top so we have to take this game seriously, as if we were playing the league leaders and show the right attitude and focus.

"Our next few games are ones we could win if we approach them in the right way. This season we have shown how to win these games, by being patient, playing our football and taking our chances when they come. I'm confident we can keep this run going and with this squad, we have to believe we can achieve anything."

EURO FILES

Continuing our 2011-12 review of football throughout the continent, we assess the action from a cross-section of Europe's other leagues

BUNDESLIGA (GERMANY)

Having raced into an early-season lead, things are not looking so bright for Bayern Munich of late.

They sit third heading into this weekend's games, just a point off league leaders Borussia Dortmund, but in terms of their recent form, the league table doesn't tell the full story.

Away to Mainz last weekend, a team struggling in the lower half of the table, they crashed to a 3-2 defeat – their second loss in as many games.

A week earlier it was title rivals Borussia Dortmund who took three points from Jupp Heynckes' side, but more worrying for Die Bayern fans was that the defeat came at home.

It marked their second loss at the Allianz Arena after Borussia Monchengladbach had shocked them on the opening day of the league campaign, winning 1-0, and with an inform Werder Bremen visiting Munich this weekend, things are threatening to get progressively worse.

Monchengladbach themselves are enjoying somewhat of a renaissance this term with that opening-day victory propelling them to ride the crest of a wave that has landed them in second place.

Indeed, Bayern's opponents this weekend, Bremen offer a valid threat to Heynckes's team given their recent rise up to fourth in the table, but it wasn't that long ago Monchengladbach themselves thrashed Die Grun-Weissen 5-0 at Borussia Park.

They were relentless in their pursuit of glory that day and it's a result that will give Bayern confidence they can get back to winning ways this week, which of course is a must as they approach the winter break.

This time last term, Dortmund were running away with the Bundesliga and while they lifted the championship with a very young side in 2010-11, some sceptics were questioning their ability to retain the title as the new campaign approached.

Their Champions League form has been disappointing to say the least, but they are top and with eight wins in their last 10 league games, you wouldn't want to bet against them to be crowned Germany's finest once more.

LIGA ZON SAGRES (PORTUGAL)

In England the media has adopted a tendency this term to compare current Chelsea manager Andre Villas-Boas' achievements to those of his one-time mentor at Stamford Bridge, Jose Mourinho.

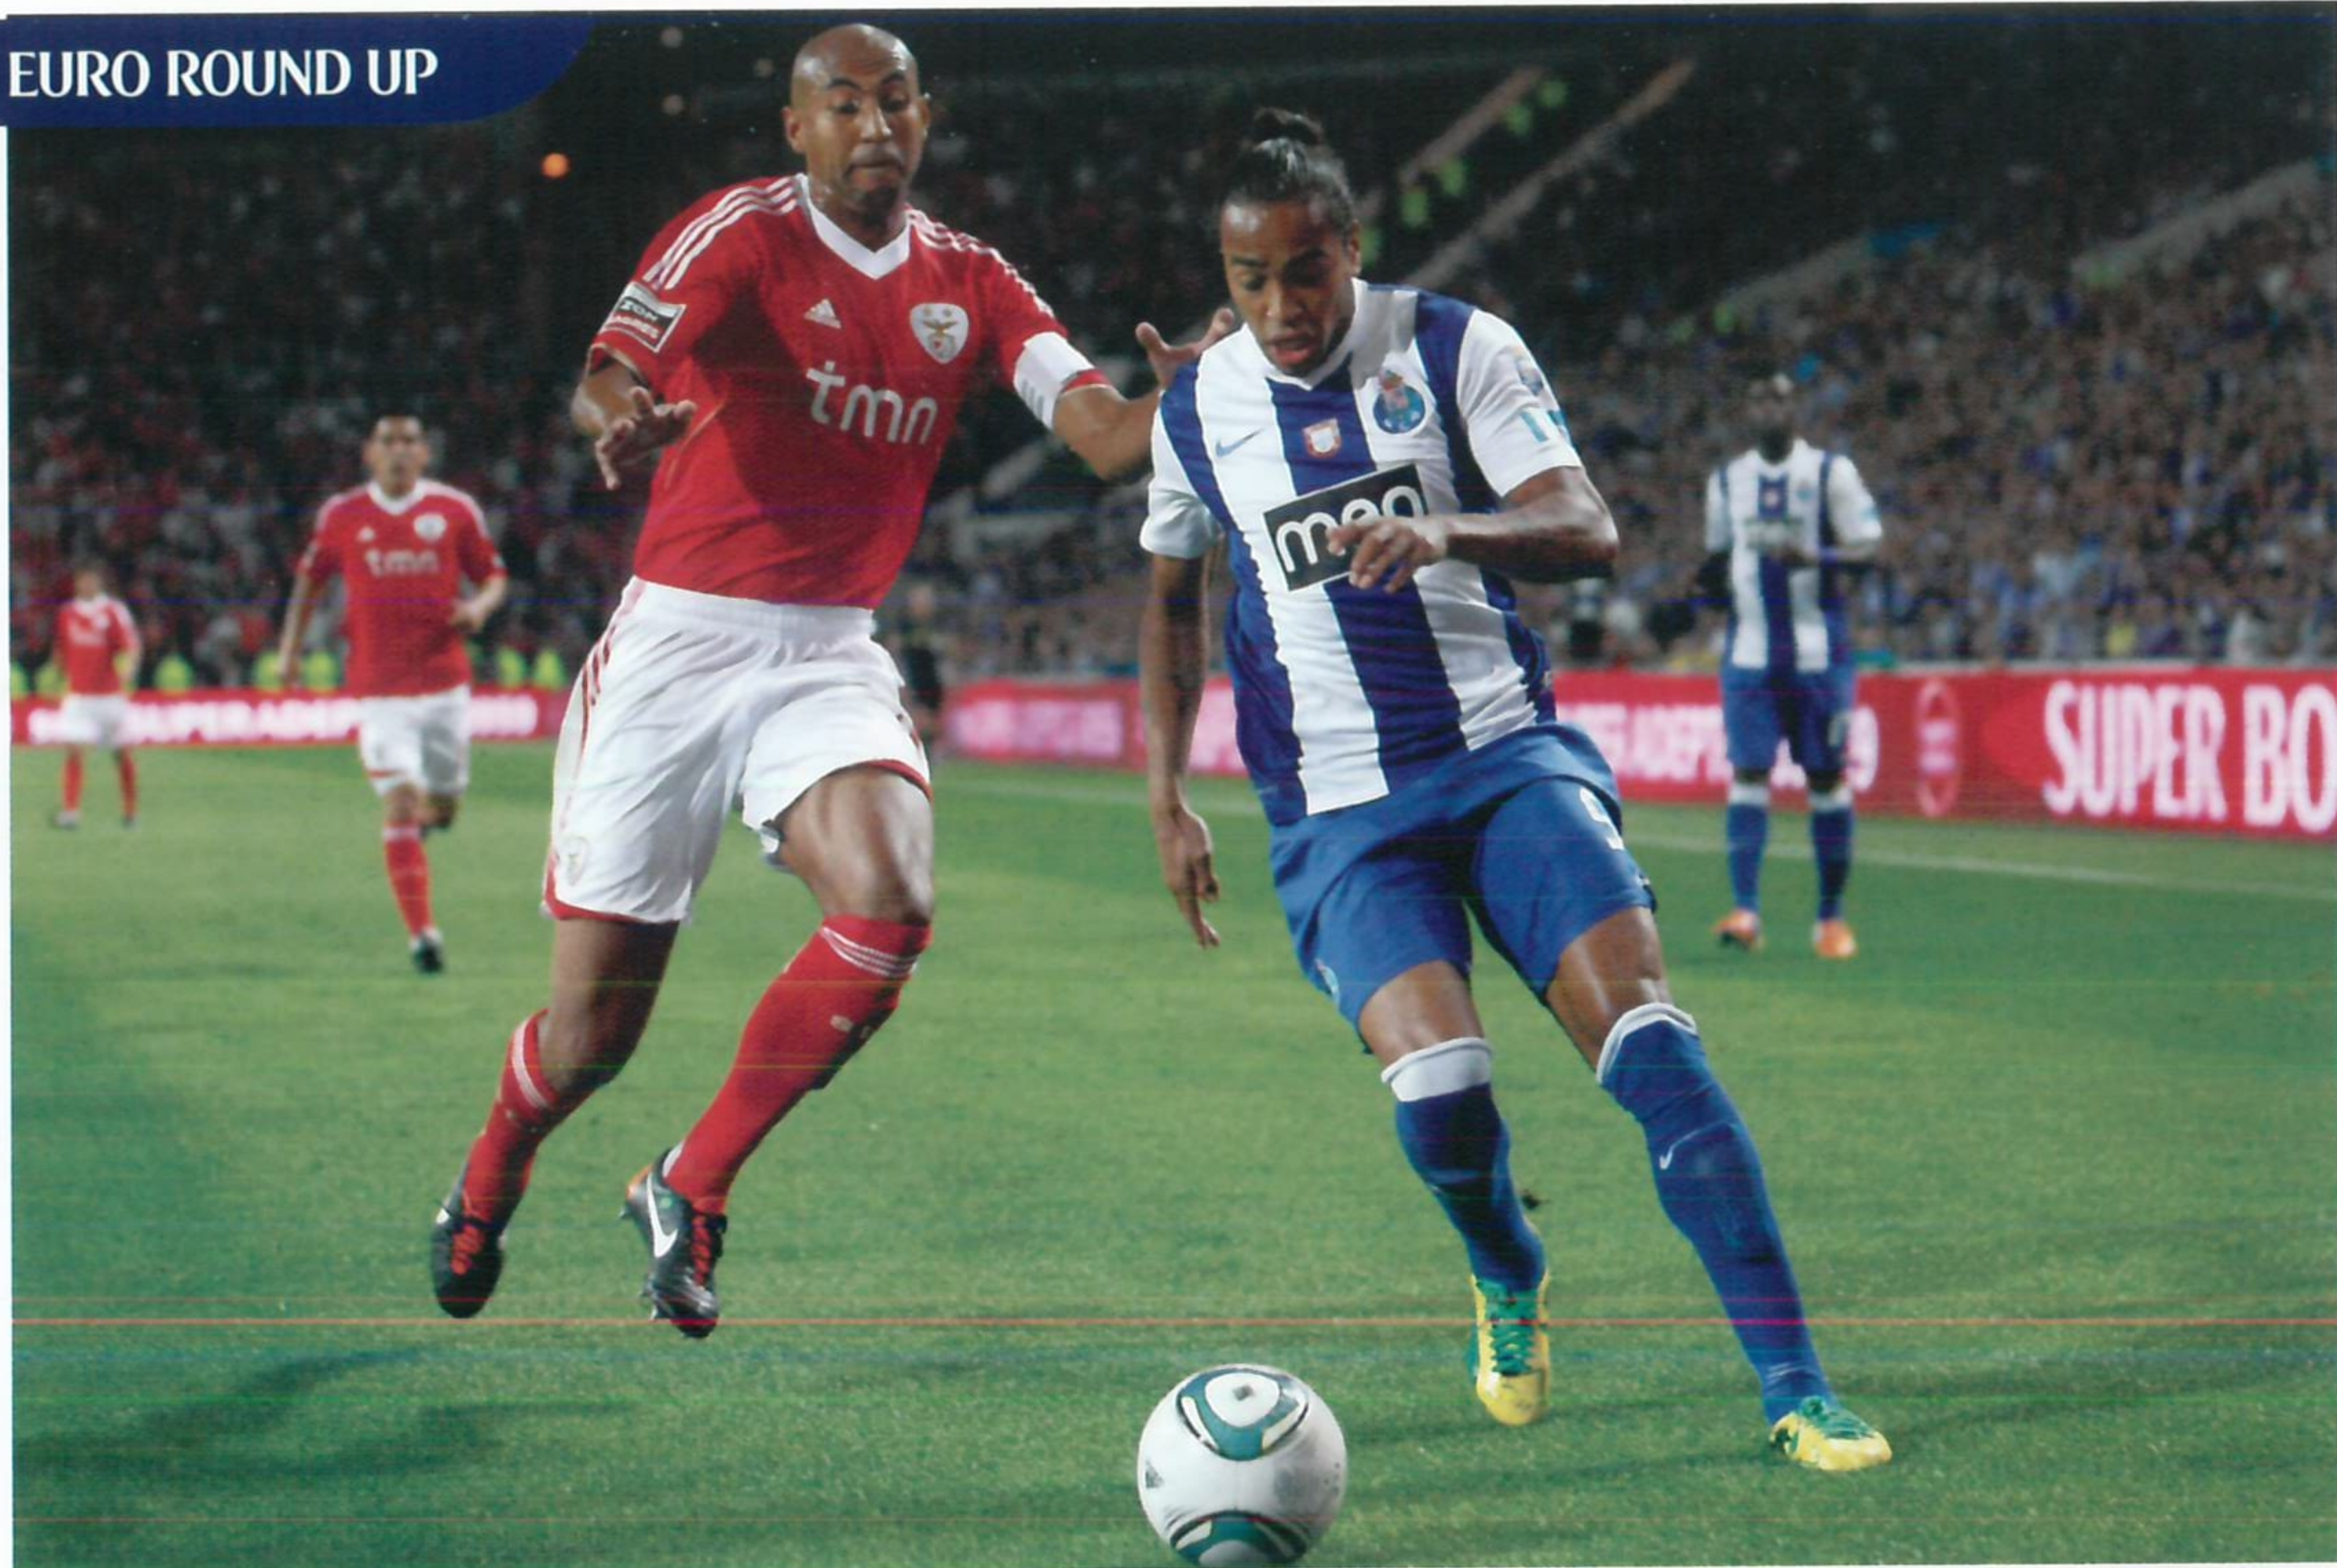

As the current Chelsea coach would confess, the Blues' form of late is not what he, nor the club's supporters, would have hoped for, but where his former team Porto are concerned, it's a case of business as usual.

Last term Porto were undefeated in the league as they ran away with the title and also lifted the Europa League with Villas-Boas at the helm. So while the 34-year-old is determined to overcome such comparisons with Mourinho, Vitor Pereira is relishing a similar scenario with the Portuguese champions where his impact has been felt.

Borussia Dortmund players celebrate last weekend's victory

Taking control of a team that was so imperious in 2010-11 was a considerable challenge for Pereira, but with Porto topping the table and remaining undefeated after 11 games, it's clear he is more than capable of meeting it.

In their their last five league games for instance, Pereira's Porto have won four, scoring 14 goals in the process, conceding just twice.

It's a sign of the standards he has maintained, although a 3-0 loss to Academica in the cup is a blot on Pereira's record that he will hope will not come back to haunt him.

Were Porto to look over their shoulder, they would be met by the glare of Benfica in their rear-view mirror who, like any predator, are eager to capitalise on the slightest mistake.

Traditionally battling for honours in Portugal, the pair have an identical record this term, although Porto edge proceedings at the top by virtue of their superior goal difference.

It finished 2-2 when they met in September, but Benfica must wait until March before their proverbial six-pointer at the Stadium of Light, where the winner of that clash could take all.

T-MOBILE BUNDESLIGA (AUSTRIA)

We have all become familiar with the Red Bull brand's sporting prowess in recent years on account of their success in Formula 1 and in Austria, their football team continues to shine.

Red Bull Salzburg, or simply Austria Salzburg as they were known up until 2005, have been victorious in three of the previous five Bundesliga seasons and while they currently sit fifth in the table, their 6-0 thrashing of Kapfenberg at the weekend suggests they are returning to form to close the gap at the top.

At present, that gap is four points, with traditional giants Austria Vienna leading the way, but as the winter break approaches, they will be wise to be wary of their rivals' threat.

Interestingly, the last game of 2011 for both clubs sees them come face-to-face for the second time this term with Salzburg having defeated Vienna 2-0 on the opening day of the season.

Midfield star Jakob Jantscher was on target that day and with six goals in 11 games, he continues to be one of the main threats in the Salzburg attack along with striker Stefan Maierhofer.

The pair have certainly been the driving force for the club this term and have been influential in maintaining a title challenge that at one point threatened to be thrown firmly off the rails.

They face Wiener Neustadt this weekend and victory at home will put them firmly back in contention for honours.

Benfica and Porto lead the way in the Portuguese Liga this term

PLAYER OF THE WEEK: HULK

"Don't make him angry!" We've heard that catchphrase and many more from the cult TV show The Incredible Hulk where the Portuguese striker is concerned, but when he is enjoying the form he is of late, it's no wonder.

The Brazilian has six goals in 10 games in the league this season and he bagged a brace against Braga last week to keep his side's winning streak going as they won 3-2.

He has long been linked with a move away from the Liga ZON Sagres and if he continues like so, it's surely only a matter of time before those rumours become a reality.

TAKE YOUR DEGREE AT TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR

Tottenham Hotspur Foundation is pleased to announce that the next Open Day for the FdA Applied Sport and Community Development course will be held on Wednesday, December 7, between 10am- 12pm, at White Hart Lane.

We will be running taster workshops and interactive sessions from modules that will be taken on the course.

This will provide essential information on what the course involves and the fantastic opportunities available after full completion.

FdA Applied Sport and Community Development is the first Degree course to be offered at a Premier League football club and is now in its second year with over 40 students currently enrolled.

The success of this course means that we are looking into the possibility of offering a new degree, FdA Sport Hospitality and Nutrition, starting next year.

This two-year course will combine theoretical teaching with practical cooking sessions and active work placements.

Both courses offer a unique opportunity to study and work within a Premier League football club. The programmes are fully delivered by Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and based at White Hart Lane Stadium.

We provide an environment where young people can build their self-esteem and confidence, raise their aspirations and gain new skills and knowledge to help improve future education, training and employment opportunities.

SUCCESS AT HARINGEY SPORTS AWARDS

Younes Kaboul was a special guest as the achievements of local sports teams and clubs were rewarded at the fifth annual Haringey Celebrating Sports Awards at White Hart Lane.

Each year the awards celebrate the successes of sporting talent in Haringey, and Tottenham Hotspur Foundation saw projects and volunteers receive awards on the night.

Alfie Russell was awarded with 'Disabled Volunteer of the Year' and our tennis programme with White Hart Lane Tennis Club won 'Team of the Year' for the Under 14 girls. All winners display the motivation and commitment continuously seen within the Foundation.

The awards also acknowledge the hard-working volunteers, sports organisations and clubs that work hard to ensure the success of the borough's up-and-coming sports stars as well as those who take part in sport to stay healthy, or just for fun.

Younes presented the Tottenham Hotspur-sponsored Awards on the night alongside Cllr Gina Adamou, Mayor of Haringey.

He said: "It was very good for me to represent the Club and all the winners deserved their awards. Grassroots sport was important for my career and played a big part in where I am today. I remember I had such good times when I was playing with my friends as a kid and as long as I was playing football, I was happy. My advice to the local sportspeople would be to keep believing in themselves, be natural and carry on doing what you do."

Cllr Alan Strickland, Cabinet Member for Economic Development and Social Inclusion, Haringey Council, said: "A consistent theme among sports clubs and sportspeople in Haringey is that a lot of their great work goes unnoticed. Similarly, there was a demand for a way to reward and recognise the sporting achievements of the people who live here. The Celebrating Sport Awards provides this 'shop window' in order to reward and recognise key individuals and organisations and promote sport and physical activity. I would like to thank the sponsors of the evening, Tottenham Hotspur FC, Pro Active North London, Haringey Sports Development Trust and Everyone's a Winner for their generous support."

Four winners in a new category of 'Outstanding Contribution to Sport and Increasing Participation' will be nominated to carry the Olympic Torch on part on its journey in 2012, including Glen Weaver, Chairman of Tottenham Hotspur Ladies.

CARIBBEAN DREAMS

While many of our players were away on international duty recently, competing in all corners of the globe, we also had a member of staff representing his country and helping to fulfil the dreams of a nation in a 2014 World Cup qualifier.

Justin Cochrane is our Academy Player Development and Skills Coach – and a full Antiguan international. He's worked within our Academy since 2009, is currently the manager of our Under-14s and is part of the team delivering the day release programme for our Under 13-16s. Justin played professionally for 10 years for the likes of QPR, Crewe Alexandra, Rotherham and Yeovil and at present is playing at semi-professional level.

He has won 14 caps for the tiny Caribbean nation of Antigua and was called into the squad for their crucial World Cup qualifier double-header against Haiti last month. A victory in either game would see Justin and his team-mates progress to the penultimate round in the CONCACAF region for the very first time.

Here is Justin's fascinating diary of his 10-day trip which highlights the game of football a world away from the Premier League we know so well.

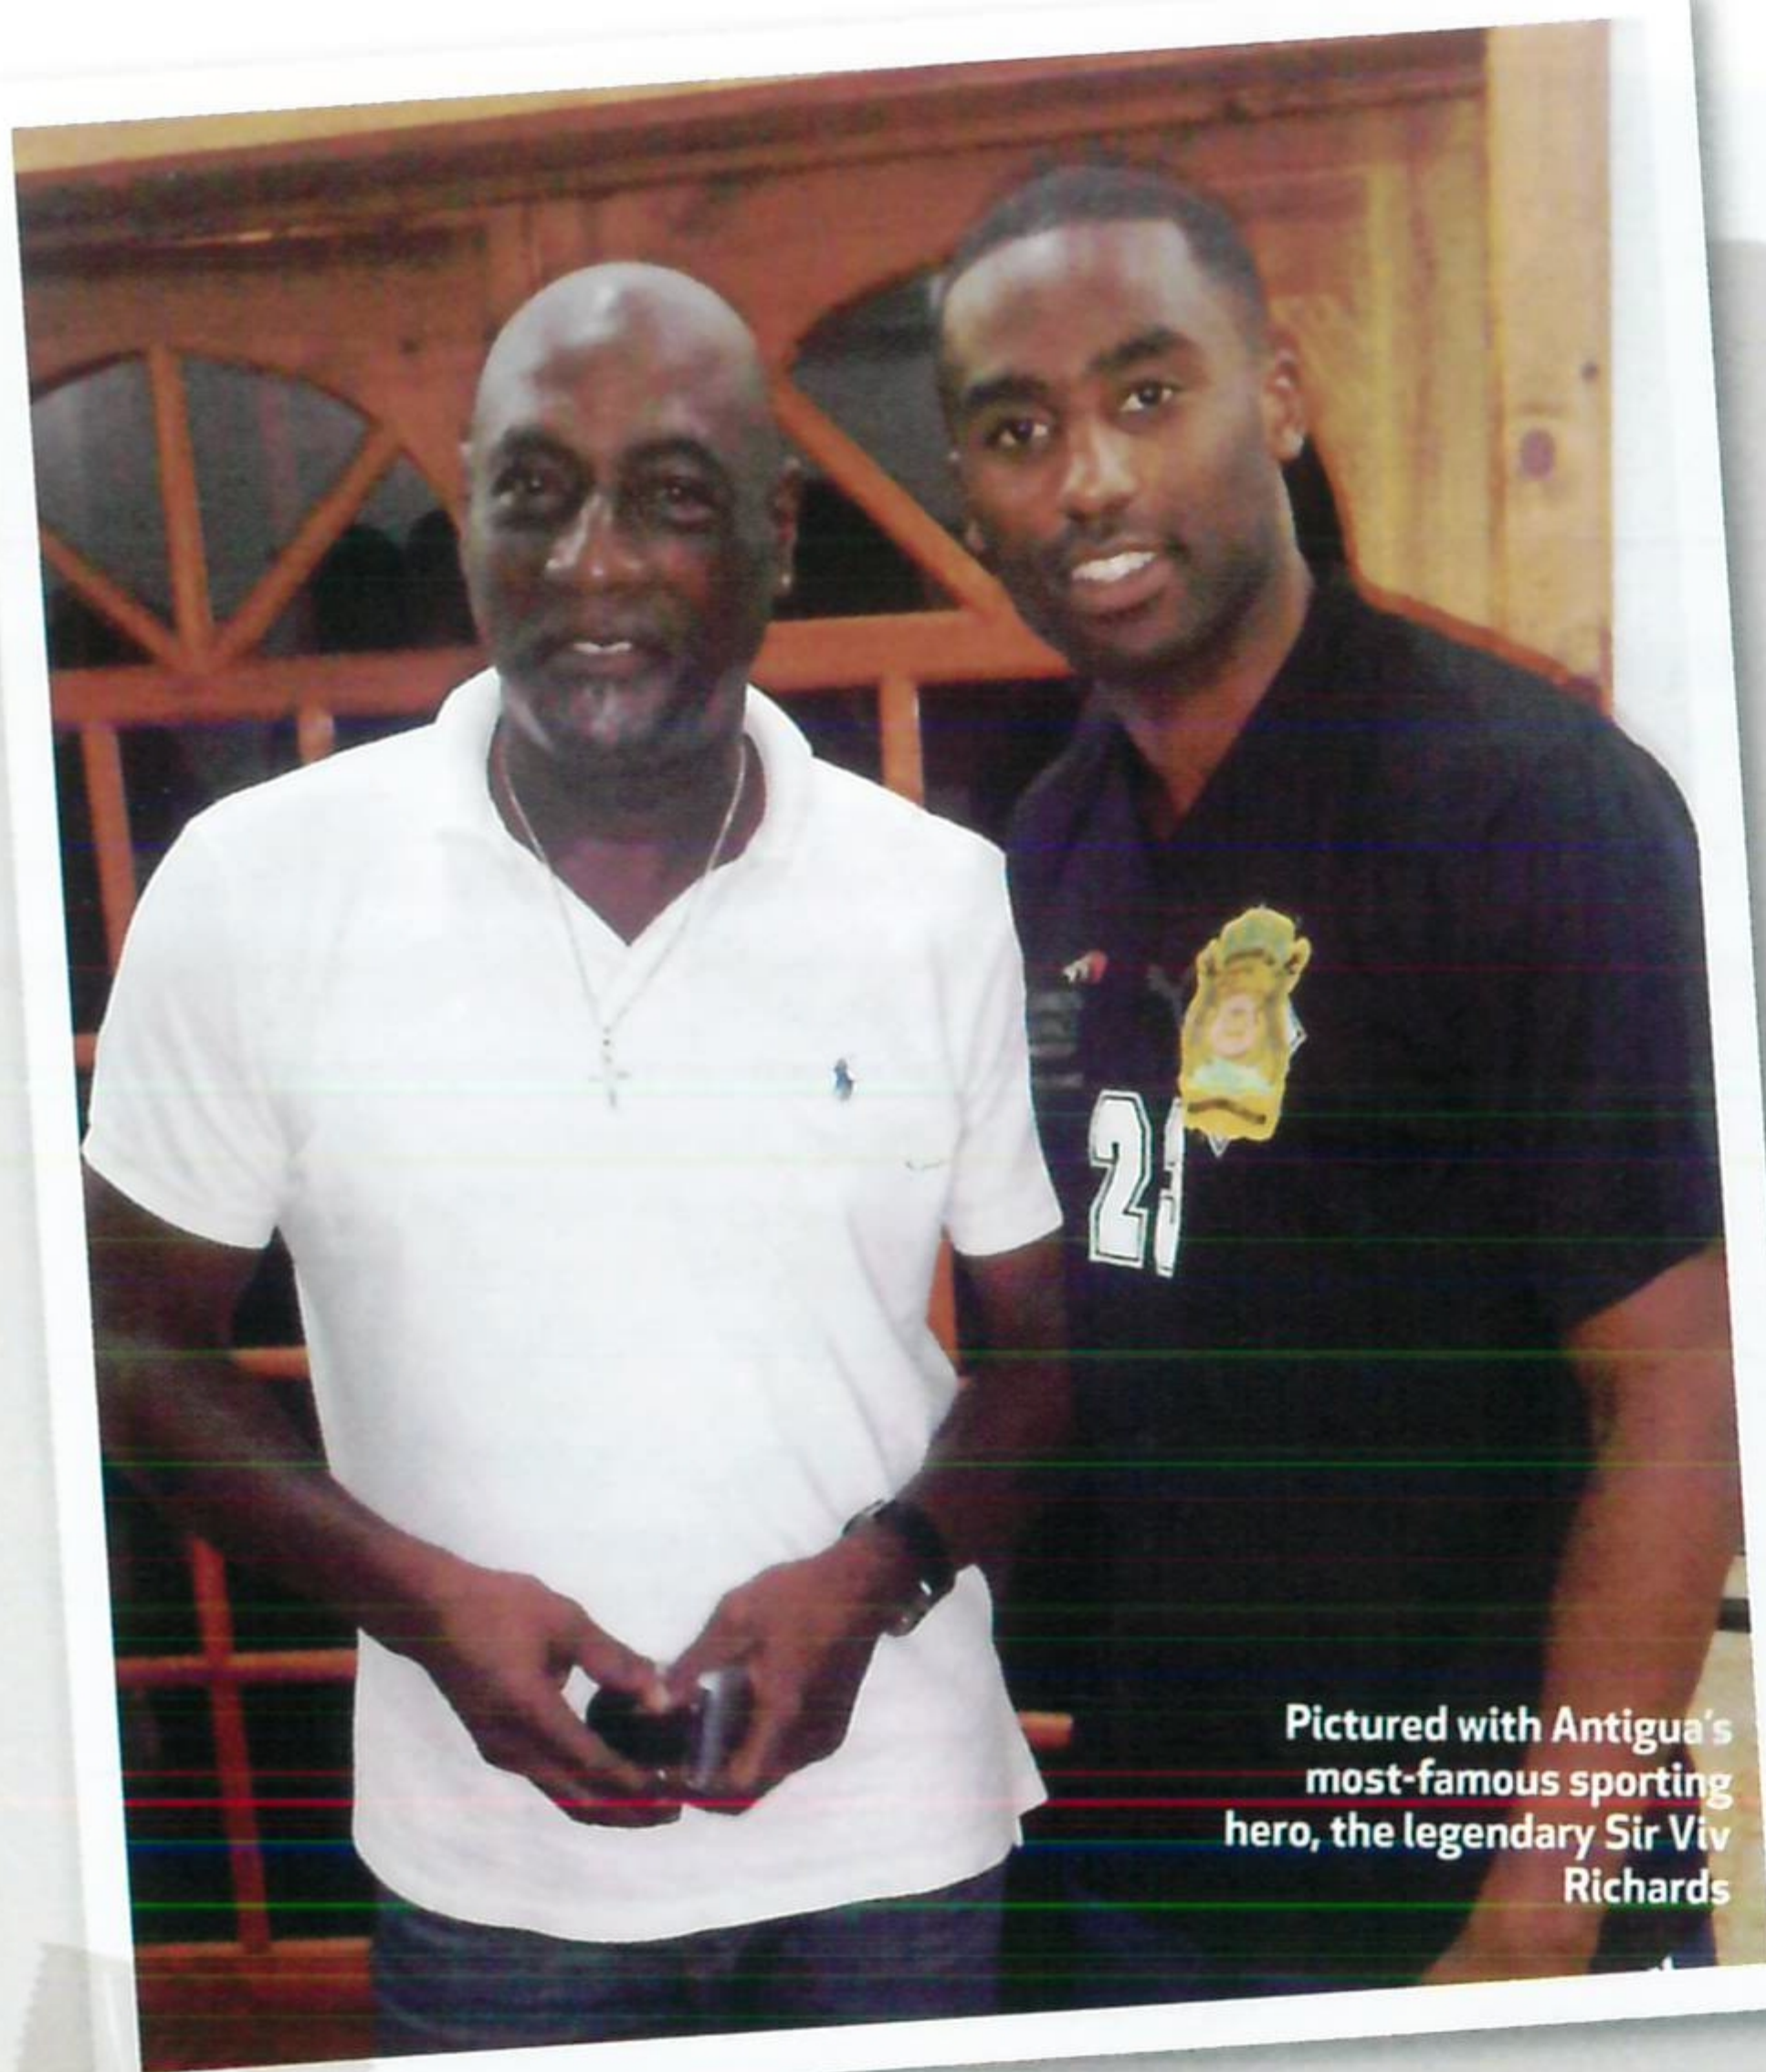

Tuesday, November 8

There are just 45 minutes before I arrive in Antigua for the biggest game of my life. If we manage to beat Haiti we qualify for the semi-final stage of the 2014 World Cup Qualifiers in our region. I am super excited and looking forward to meeting up with the boys I have been playing with for the past three years. I qualify to play for Antigua through my father who was born there before moving to England as a five-year-old in the early 1960s. We currently have five English based players representing Antigua - Mikele Leigertwood (Reading), Marvin McCoy (Wycombe), Kieron Murtagh (Cambridge), Marc Joseph, who used to play for Hull and Rotherham and now plays in the Conference North, and myself. I play for Borehamwood in the Conference South. Let's see what the next few days bring.

Justin poses for the media at the pre-match press day

Wednesday, November 9

This morning we had a light training session, meeting up with all the guys was good too. We have a good team spirit and everyone is looking forward to the game. I relaxed for most of the afternoon before the team had a stroll on the beach. We witnessed a couple getting married before we had two minute ice baths! This is something I hate but the legs felt better afterwards. After dinner we had a meeting/pep talk from the one and only Sir Vivian Richards. He spoke about being focused, having total concentration and an inner self belief. The man is a legend in the Caribbean and in the cricket world in general. Time for some rest now.

Thursday, November 10

Tonight we trained at the stadium and the team was announced. I'm not in the starting XI which is disappointing but right now it's not about me, it's about the team, the island and all the people who call Antigua home. After dinner we had the local minister come to pray for the squad, then the customary quiz. I'm usually on the winning team, but today is different - I didn't win. Oh well, life goes on and let's hope tomorrow is a memorable day in the history of football in Antigua.

Friday, November 11

Match Day... Caribbean people in general are quite relaxed but today I could sense tension and a nervousness surrounding the game. We went for a stroll in the morning and just had to put our feet up until 5pm when we left for the game. Mikele squad and some fans who managed to pass the stewards. We held out to the end and the celebrations will live long in my memory – it means we have qualified for the next stage and can now look forward to games against the USA, Jamaica and Guatemala in the next group. We partied until the small hours and I'm sure the island will make the party last all weekend. We fly to Haiti tomorrow morning, unfortunately.

Justin and Antigua's English manager Tom Curtis celebrate their qualification

Saturday, November 12

An early start this morning and a few players have had no sleep! We fly to St Martin and see the Haiti squad who are getting on the same flight as us to Haiti.

I end up speaking to one of their staff who tells me 14 million people are crying in Haiti today. He talks on the suffering their people have faced and that all they have is football. The national stadium was one of the only buildings unaffected by the earthquake and many people stayed there when their homes were destroyed. It's hard not to feel sorry for them but they will have another chance in four years. Their coach has quit and has flown to New York though!

I'm not sure what I was expecting when I arrived in Haiti but it was intimidating. Firstly, the airport was a free for all, finding your luggage was tricky as four flights came in at the same time and all luggage was on the same belt! There were so many people it was mayhem. We made our way out of the terminal to the one small minibus they provided for us. Bear in mind it was a 22-seater minibus and we had 18 players and Leigertwood and I decided to chill on the beach for a while. The sun was out and the salt water felt good for the legs. We had lunch and then just relaxed. The afternoon was going so slow...we all just wanted kick-off to hurry up!

History created - Antigua 1 Haiti 0.

The game was end to end and full of incident. Haiti should have had two penalties but in the end a basic goalkeeping error gave us the goal we needed. Our super sub striker Kerry Skepple entered the pitch with 15 minutes to go and with his first touch unleashed a firm but straight shot which slipped through the Haiti keeper's grasp! I sprinted from the bench towards the corner where he celebrated and was joined by the whole six staff with all our luggage! I ended up standing squashed against the doors for the 40 minute journey that ended up being an 80 minute trip.

Celebration time as Antigua create history with their home win over Haiti

What I saw on that journey will never be forgotten - extreme poverty, villages of tents, vehicles driving on whatever side of the road that suited them, huge potholes and small kids just roaming around as if they were homeless. Anything I've ever worried about was minuscule to the problems these people faced.

*Sunday,
November 13*

The day has been spent relaxing and chilling, we have a team pool and table tennis competition.

*Monday,
November 14*

Today we took a trip to the stadium which is in the capital Port au Prince. The poverty and destruction there is unbelievable, I was saddened by the whole experience. I'm grateful for what I have. The stadium was very nice and the backdrop to one end were mountains that seemed like they went up forever.

We trained for an hour then made are way back to the hotel.

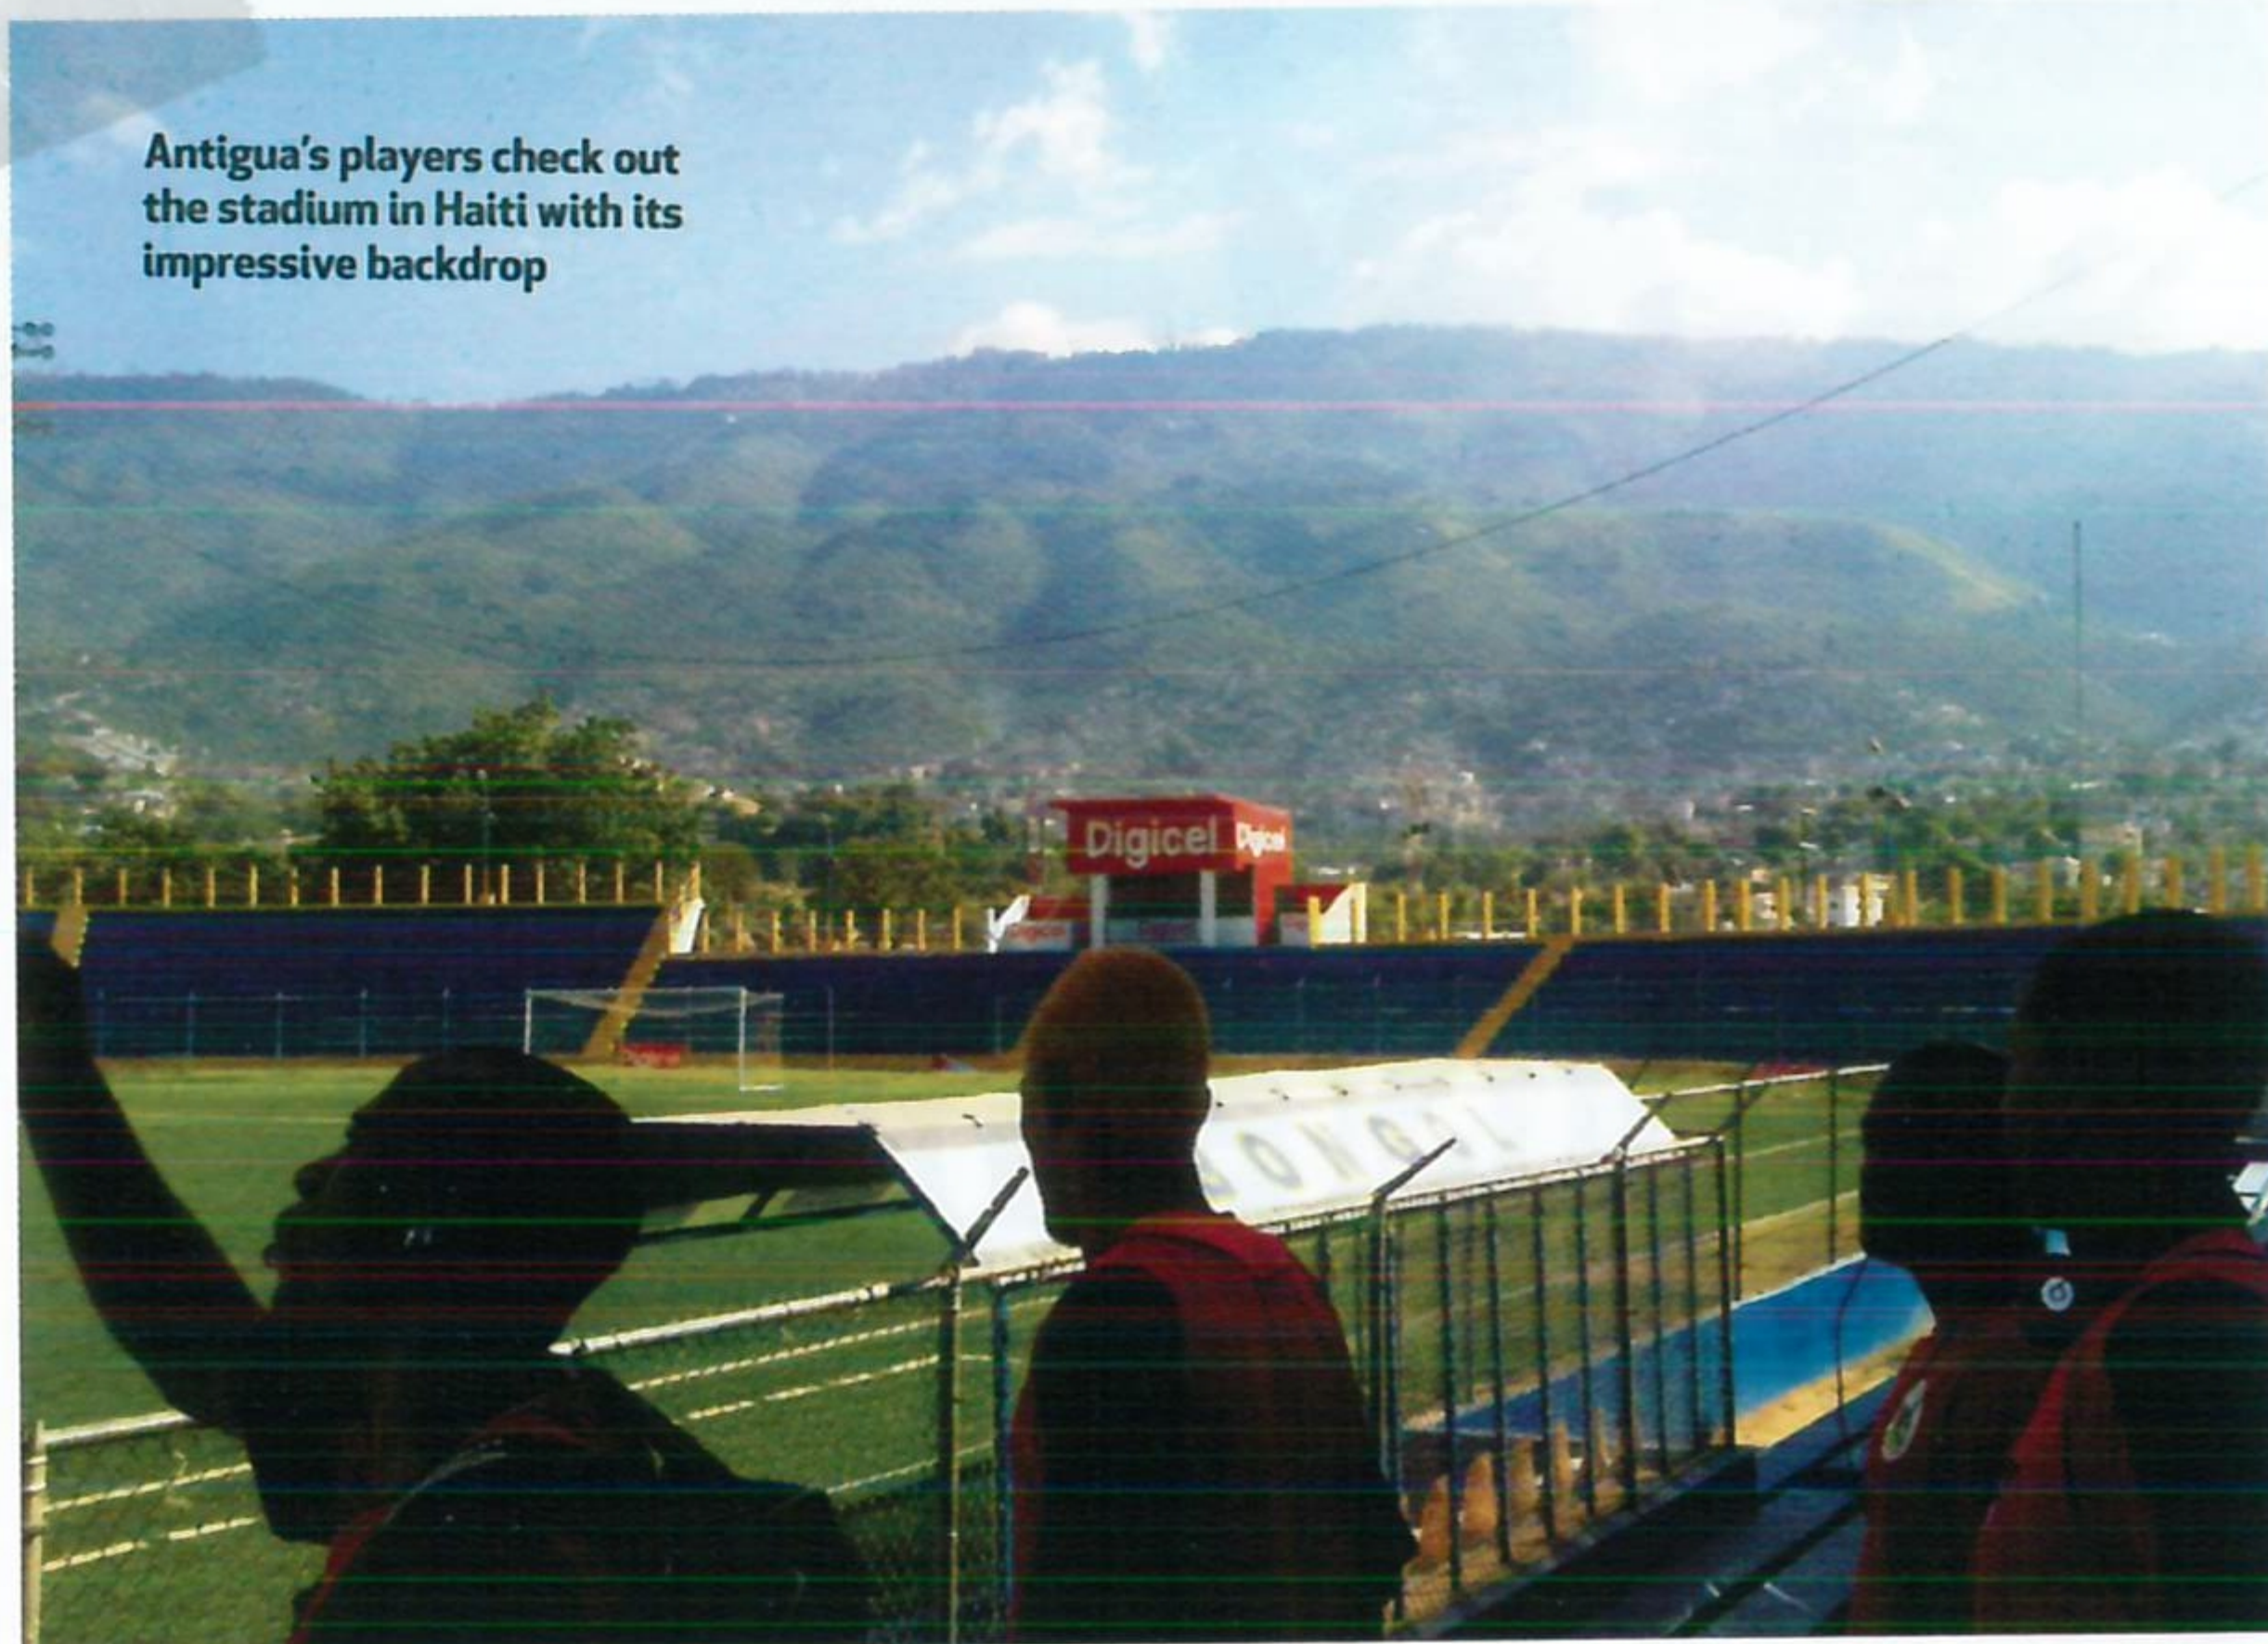

Tuesday, November 15

Match Day...we play at 3pm and it must be close to 90 degrees. I'm starting. The stadium is a quarter full, the Haitian fans gathered in one stand covered by shade. The first half is an even contest but we score on the break to lead 1-0. The second half is a different story, they rally and score twice to win. At the end of the game I sat on the pitch and although I was disappointed, I also was slightly happy the Haitian fans had something to cheer and left with a smile on their face.

Before all the fans left I saw a small boy in tattered clothes standing behind the mesh fence. He pointed towards my boots and asked if he could have them. How could I say no? I have three other pairs at home. I gave them to him, 20 minutes later when I left the stadium he was outside with the boots on! His smile was huge and I felt I had made him a happy boy. Although they were probably five sizes too big and he was walking on concrete, I'm sure he had no problem walking home, wherever that may be.

Wednesday, November 16

Home time. Just a day of travelling, although some complications at Haiti airport meant we nearly missed our flight! We fly to St Martin then on to Antigua.

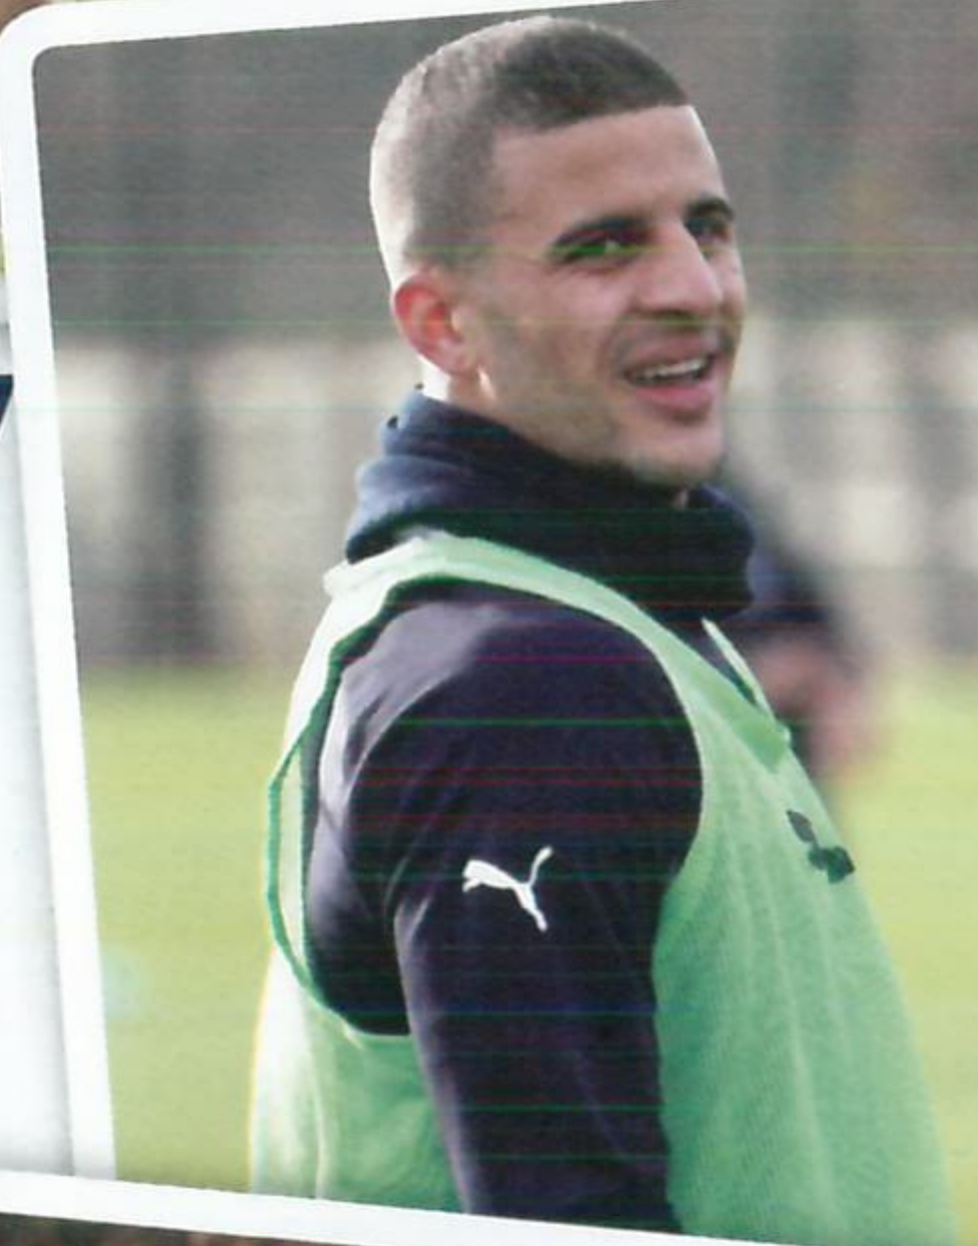

Thursday, November 17

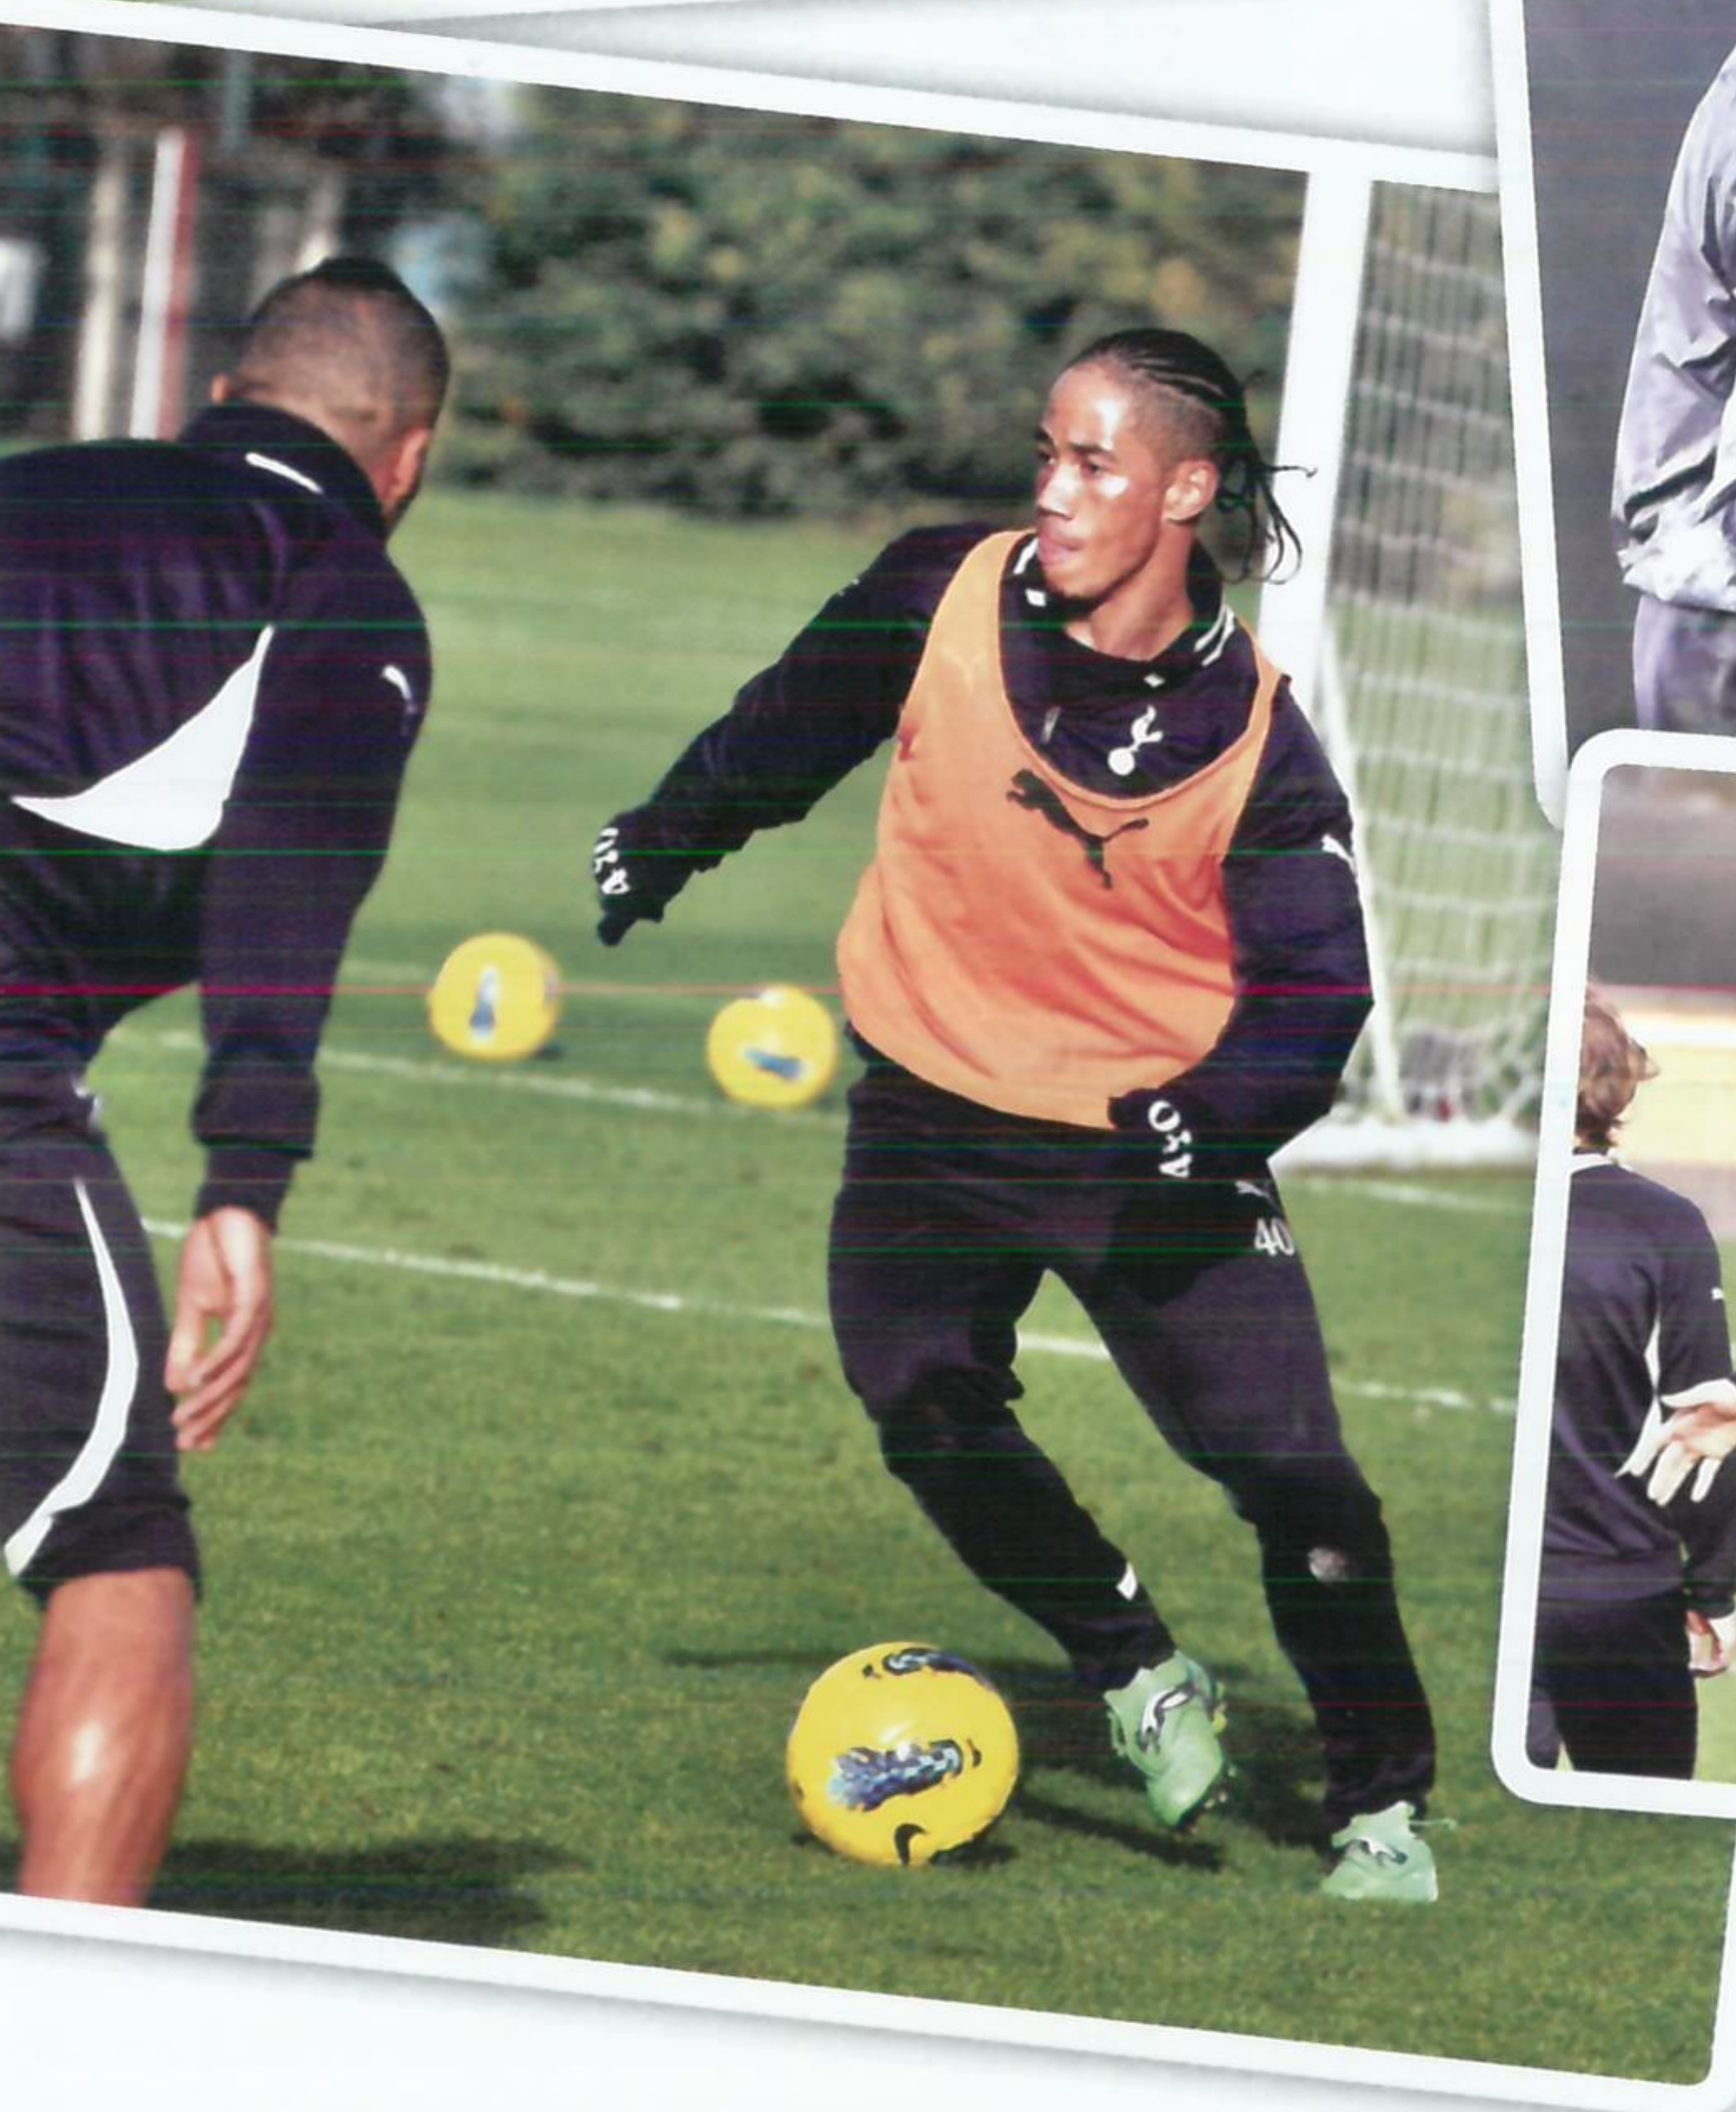

Back in Antigua and the journey is over. I have a day to relax before catching an evening flight back to London. I'll be back at Spurs Lodge soon enough.

IAN SAGAR

By his own admission, football is a passion that wheelchair basketball star Ian Sagar has only developed over the past five years. It was a "Spurs-mad" girlfriend of his who introduced him to the game back in 2006 and her enthusiasm for the sport and her club didn't take long to rub off.

"I came to my first game at White Hart Lane with her and I surprised even myself by how quickly I became both a football fan and a Tottenham supporter," he says.

"Robbie Keane and Dimitar Berbatov were leading the line in the first match I saw and I loved their style of play. They were my first favourite players. And nowadays, I think we have arguably the best midfield in the Premier League. Luka Modric is a genius in the centre and is perfectly complemented by Scott Parker, who already has to be one of the signings of the season. Then we've got players like Gareth Bale and Aaron Lennon in wide positions. The midfield is brilliant, it's poetry in motion watching them."

Ian has become a White Hart Lane regular over the past five years, though more recently his professional wheelchair basketball career in Spain means he can't get to quite as many games. Given our achievements over recent seasons, Ian acknowledges that he has “picked a good time” to start supporting us, though he recalls some low points during the time too.

“I appreciate that I’ve become a Spurs supporter during a really successful period in the club’s history, what with winning the League Cup in 2008, doing so well in the Champions League last season and pretty much being in Europe in all the other seasons,” he says. “I don’t think of myself as a lucky charm though, especially because I went to every match home and away at the beginning of the 2008-2009 season where we famously only recorded two points from the first eight games.”

Ian’s enthusiasm for Spurs, despite having only supported us for five years, comes as no surprise given that he seems to be the kind of individual that embraces new things in his life. Having been involved in a serious motorcycle accident in 1999, he became a paraplegic. But not one to be held back, his positive outlook as he recovered from his injuries at the Northern General Hospital in Sheffield helped him discover a new interest that has since turned into a career.

“From the window of the spinal injuries unit, I used to be able to see

IAN SAGAR - PARALYMPIC HISTORY 2012 - London

Sagar, who plays wheelchair basketball professionally for Toledo in Spain, won a bronze medal with Great Britain at the Paralympic World Cup earlier in the year in addition to the gold medal secured at the European Championships. London 2012 represents the first opportunity for the Yorkshire-born player to represent his country at the Paralympics.

a sports hall where a number of guys would play wheelchair basketball,” he says. “I’ve always been an active person and I had a real desire to get back involved with sport. I went down there and gave it a go and it has turned into a career. I’ve got to represent my country, play professionally in Spain and now the Paralympic Games in London are on the horizon. Things are certainly looking up for me.”

There have been number of major sporting highlights already for Ian, most notably being a part of the Great Britain team which won the European Championships in Nazareth, Israel, this summer.

“That was just incredible,” smiles Ian. “We beat Germany 76-65 in the final and I think that achievement puts down a real statement of intent ahead of the Paralympics. It’s the first time in 16 years that Great Britain has won the tournament, so we’re certainly the form team going into the Games for the first time in a long time.”

This hopeful Paralympian is not short of highlights as far as his time as a Spurs supporter goes either.

“The run in the Champions League last season was phenomenal and the match that sticks out for me is our 0-0 draw with AC Milan at home,” says Ian. “While people will think back to Gareth Bale’s hat-trick against Inter, or indeed the Inter game at home when we beat them 3-1, the home draw with AC Milan was such a mature performance. The game was 90 minutes of agony and ecstasy as we hung on at times, but it was all worth it for that tremendous feeling at the end where we had made it through to the Champions League quarter finals.”

Wheelchair Basketball is the largest Paralympic Sport in the UK and embraces a wide range of disabilities including paraplegics, spina bifida, amputees, brittle bones, cerebral palsy and multiple sclerosis. Able bodied players are eligible to play up to a national level, virtually everyone who can conceivably play wheelchair basketball is encouraged to do so. OTHER DEFINING MOMENTS - SEASON 1997-1998

A busy summer of transfers saw us sign club legends David Ginola and Les Ferdinand from Newcastle United.

Just before Christmas in 1997, then-manager Christian Gross handed the White Hart Lane faithful the perfect festive gift by re-signing an old favourite - Jürgen Klinsmann. The German international forward scored nine goals in 15 matches in his second spell with us, having joined on-loan from Sampdoria.

Klinsmann scored four goals in a 6-2 victory at Wimbledon in the penultimate game of the season, which secured our place in the Premier League. His last ever club match, before retiring after that summer's World Cup, saw him score a long range volley in a 1-1 draw at home to Southampton.

BAARDSSEN SAVES WIN RELEGATION SIX POINTER

As part of a regular series, Andy Greeves talks to ex-Spurs players and managers about defining moments of seasons past. Today, former goalkeeper Espen Baardsen reflects on a match-winning performance against Bolton Wanderers in March, 1998.

11

It is a goalkeeper's luck that over time their mistakes rather than their saves seem to live longest in people's memories. Fortunately for our former Norwegian international Espen Baardsen, his defining moment in our colours will be a match here with Bolton Wanderers on March 1, 1998 when he pulled off a string of top-class saves.

Throughout our 20-year Premier League history, surely there can't have been many more occasions in which we needed such a match winning display than this match with Bolton. Having won just seven league matches all season prior to this encounter with the Trotters, we would have swapped places with the Lancashire side and dropped into the relegation zone with defeat in the vital six pointer.

"It had been a tough season for us and I think there were times when the team suffered with a bit of a lack of confidence," reflects Baardsen. "Obviously the Bolton game was very important at the time as they were one of about six or seven clubs, ourselves included, all in danger of getting relegated."

The nerves around White Hart Lane were tangible as the game kicked off and it was the visitors who made the best start, in a game which was broadcast live on Sky Sports. After just 90 seconds, Bolton striker Dean Holdsworth crashed to the ground in our penalty area, but Wanderers' appeal for a spot kick was turned down by the official Peter Jones who ruled there was no contact between him and Baardsen.

Gradually we came more and more into the game and on the stroke of half time, Allan Nielsen capitalised by turning a Clive Wilson cross beyond Keith Branagan in the Bolton goal to give us the lead.

"Getting a goal just before half time is always a big thing psychologically," says Baardsen. "Allan Nielsen was a very hard working player and someone who got his fair share of important goals for us, including the winner in the League Cup Final in 1999 of course."

In the second half, Baardsen came into his own, making fine saves from Bolton's Jamie Pollock and Neil Cox. With 15 minutes remaining, he pulled off the best save of the lot, denying Jimmy Phillips what would have surely been one of the goals of the season. Using every sinew of his 6' 5" inch frame, he diverted Phillips' goalbound effort around the post with his fingertips and in doing so, the whole of White Hart Lane rose to its feet to applaud him.

"It's the save I still get asked most about to this day," smiles Espen. "I got the Man of the Match award that day and a fantastic ovation from our fans which was nice. Of course, the most important thing was the three points. Had we lost or drawn that game it would have made our fight against relegation a much harder one."

At the end of the season Bolton were relegated from the Premier League along with Barnsley and Crystal Palace. Our form in the last quarter of the season saw us win four games, draw five and lose just twice, ensuring survival and a 14th placed finish.

Baardsen made 23 league starts for us between 1996 and 2000 but often found himself second choice to then-England goalkeeper Ian Walker. He later played for Watford and Everton before making a surprise decision aged just 25 to retire from professional football and pursue a career in finance. He currently works for a London-based asset management firm.

"I would have liked to have played some more games in the Premiership before I retired," reflects Baardsen. "After being in a World Cup squad (for Norway at France 1998) and representing a club like Tottenham Hotspur though, I left football with no regrets. I'd always had an interest in finance and I love what I am doing today. I guess I had done what I wanted to do in football and was ready for the next challenge. I also got to travel for a year after leaving the game, which was a life changing experience."

SAFETY AT THE LANE

GROUND REGULATION

Supporters please be aware that Ground Regulation point 13 states that racial, homophobic, anti-semitic or discriminatory abuse, chanting or harassment is strictly forbidden and will result in arrest and/or ejection from the ground.

STANDING

The Club would like to reiterate its policy with regards to standing during football matches played at White Hart Lane and ask for the fans to co-operate with the Stewards on matchdays. We naturally recognise that the problem does not exist throughout the Stadium, but where and when it does occur, it affects a number of fans who have been unable to view the pitch on occasions and, due to this, we receive a number of complaints each season. As such, we need to deal with the problem as best we can, but we cannot do this without your support. Therefore, we would ask you to consider the fans behind you, the elderly or the young, those in the Disabled Section and those who cannot stand for prolonged periods of time.

We are aware that football can be a passionate and emotive game and we also know that fans will stand periodically through the match. The issue relates to fans that persistently stand during games and continually work against instructions and requests from stewards.

Your support of the team has been invaluable over recent years and therefore, the Club is unhappy at having to eject and ban fans for this offence, but we will continue to do so if the situation presents itself again this season. Ejection from the Stadium carries a minimum three match ban, with no refund on Season Tickets.

The Club is monitored on a regular basis by the Local Authority, who issue the Safety Certificate, and the Football Licensing Authority and whilst they are happy with the way we deal with a number of issues, they are continually looking at the standing problem and solutions to resolve it.

The ruling is the same as at all other Premier League Clubs and those that are all seater stadiums in other Leagues. It has been noticeable that some Clubs have had their capacities reduced and this is not something we wish to see at White Hart Lane. Please help us to work with the Authorities and recognise that standing is an issue that needs to be dealt with for the benefit of everyone.

Please listen to what the Stewards say and sit down when requested to do so, allowing everyone to enjoy the match in the unique atmosphere here at White Hart Lane, created by Spurs fans.

SPURS AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

We do not tolerate discrimination of any sort at the Club, on the pitch or in the stands. If you experience any form of discrimination, help us to eliminate it from football by reporting it.

Text us on 07537 404821 or email us at safety@tottenhamhotspur.com - we will treat your correspondence in strictest confidence. Your co-operation in helping to make White Hart Lane a safe and enjoyable environment for everyone is greatly appreciated.

EVACUATION PROCEDURE

In the event of an emergency at Tottenham Hotspur Football Club, spectators should remain in their positions and listen carefully to the loud speaker announcements that will be made.

The announcements may direct spectators in a specified area of the ground to evacuation points which may be exit gates or emergency exits leading on to the pitch. Our PA system operates on a 'zoned' basis so do not worry if you cannot hear certain broadcasts too clearly. In such cases, the information will not appertain to your section of the stadium.

Stewards, officials and police officers will direct spectators to the relevant points.

If spectators are requested to vacate a specified area, they are asked to do so calmly and quickly to assist with a safe evacuation.

All supporters should then make their way towards the east side of the stadium using Park Lane and Worcester Avenue, into Northumberland Park, avoiding the High Road and the front of the stadium.

TEXTING SERVICE - PLEASE NOTE OUR NEW NUMBER - 07537 404821

The Texting Service is unique at White Hart Lane and has been used to good effect in past seasons in enabling us to ban people for committing offences on matchdays.

Foul, abusive and racist language will not be tolerated in this stadium, but should you experience any of these and wish to report it, you can do so by texting the Control Room on the above number. You do not have to put up with mindless supporters who are intent on ruining your day with us, so use the system, report the individuals and let us take it from there. For our staff, it is better to monitor the problem as it is happening, we can view the area of concern on CCTV and deal with everything quickly. Help us to make White Hart Lane a safe and welcoming environment for everyone.

If you have information about any persons involved in football hooliganism, please call the National Criminal Intelligence Service - Football Unit on 0800 515495. Your call will be treated in the strictest confidence. This ground is equipped with CCTV with the help of a grant from the football trust.

NIKO KRANJCAR

Time to find out a little bit more about the sporting interests and achievements of our players, from their early days right through to the present time. Answering the questions this week is Niko Kranjcar

GROWING UP

What are your first memories of kicking a ball?

I remember playing in the apartment we lived in, in Vienna and also, when I went to watch my dad train with Rapid Vienna I was always knocking a ball around on the sidelines.

What sports did you play as a youngster?

Mostly basketball and tennis and obviously football.

What was the name of your first youth football team?

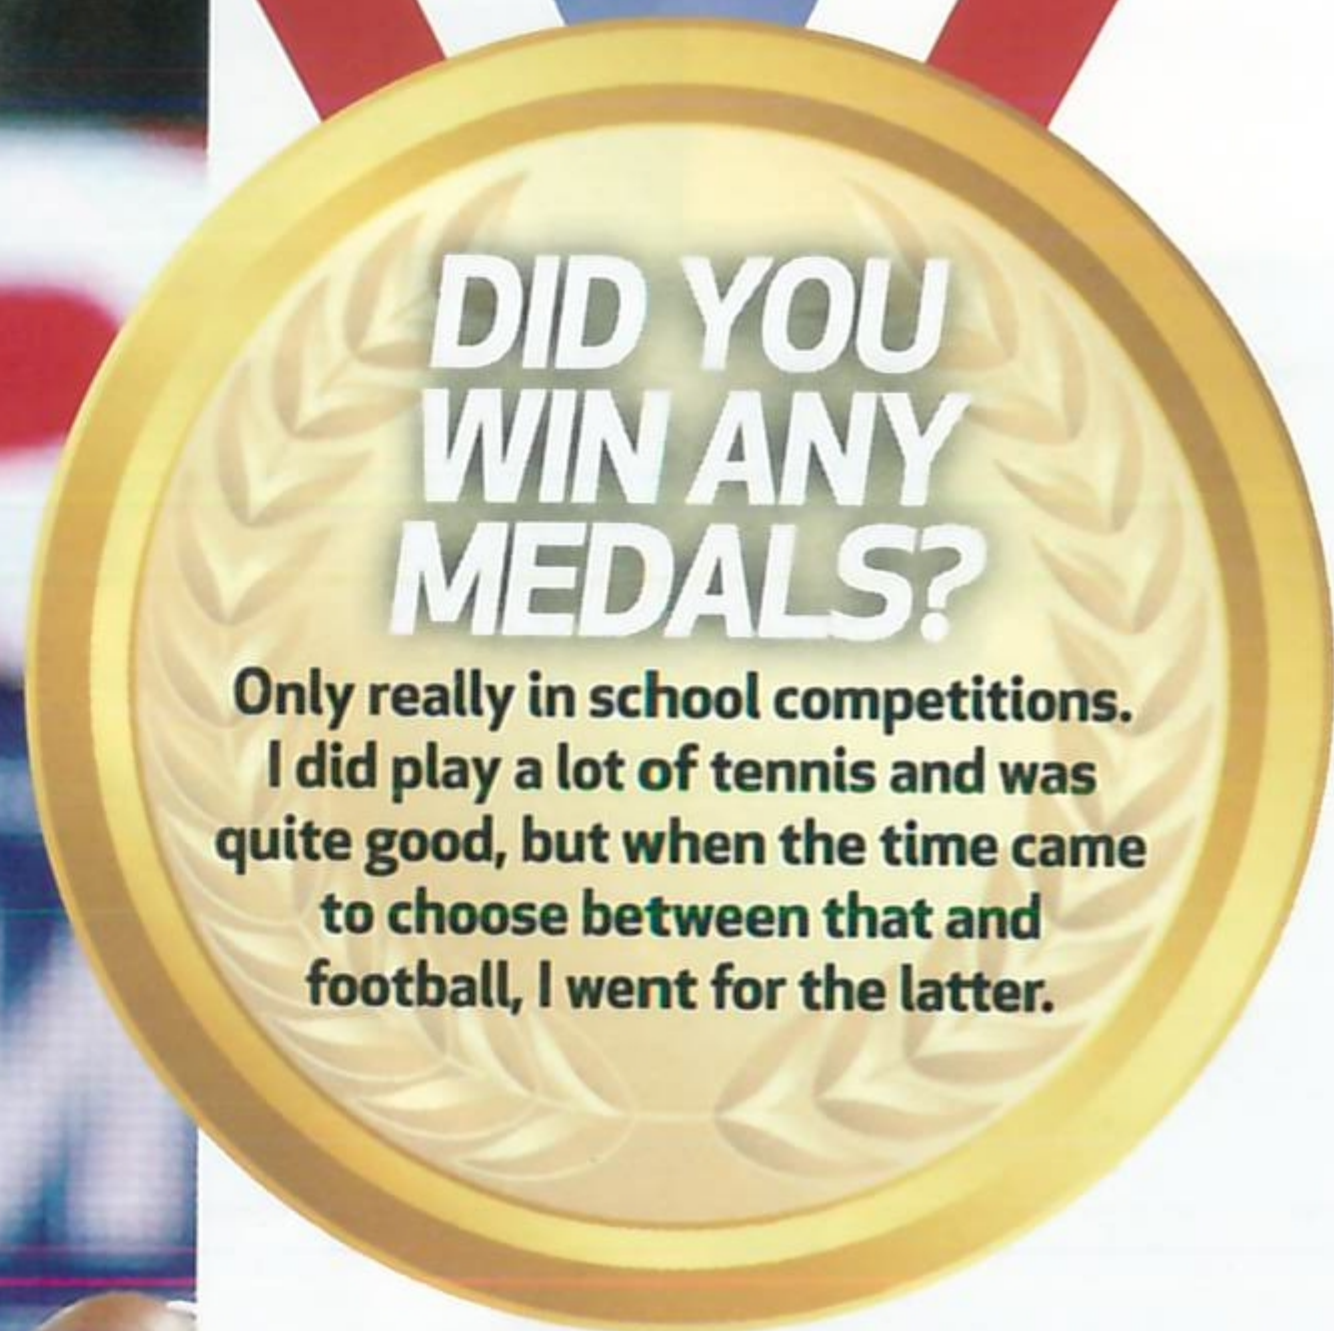

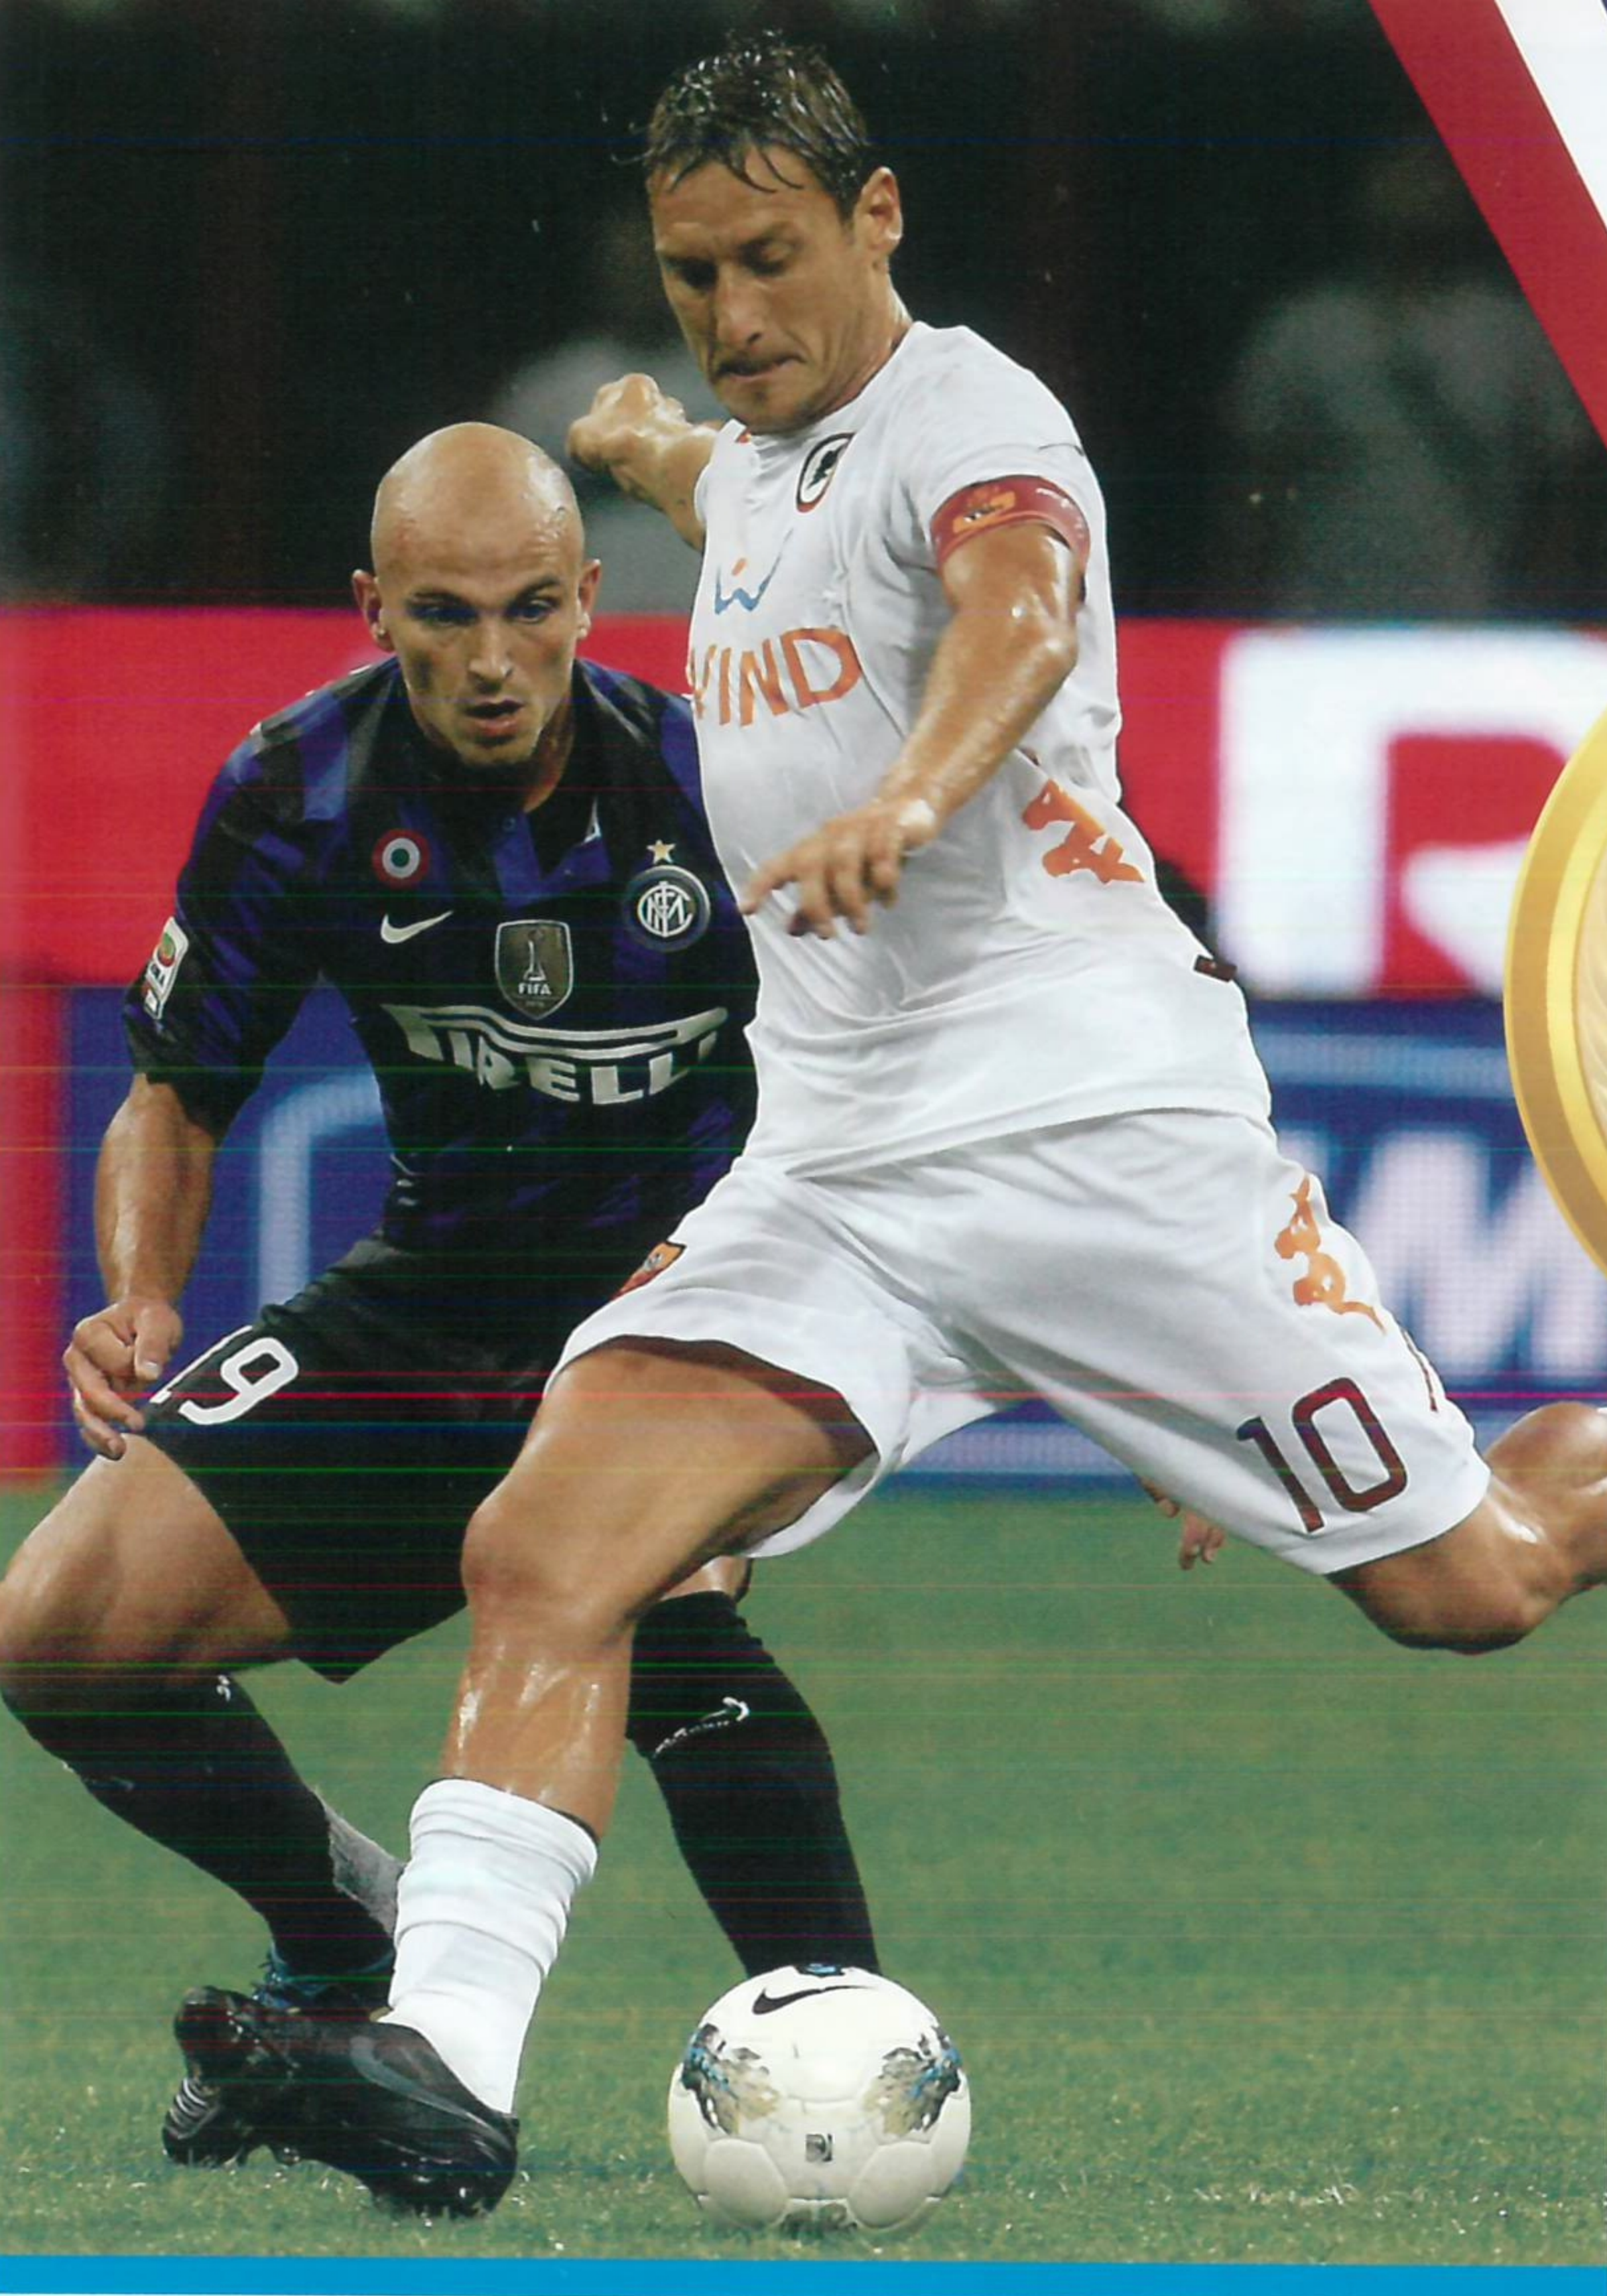

It was Rapid Vienna. When the coaches saw me kicking a ball around with my father, they asked if I wanted to join the youth team. The youngest side was Under-8s. I was only six at the time and I stayed there until I was nine.

VENUES

At which ground did you play your first professional match?

At the home of NK Zagreb, playing for Dinamo Zagreb in the first leg of a cup semi-final. I was 16-and-a-half and went on as a substitute. We lost the game 1-0 but managed to reach the final.

DID YOU WIN ANY MEDALS?

Only really in school competitions. I did play a lot of tennis and was quite good, but when the time came to choose between that and football, I went for the latter.

"I WENT TO WATCH THE ATP FINALS AT THE O2 RECENTLY, AND SAW ROGER FEDERER COMFORTABLY BEAT RAFAEL NADAL. I'M A BIG FEDERER FAN SO I ENJOYED THAT."

What was the last arena you went to watch a sporting event at?

I went to watch the ATP Finals at the O2 recently, and saw Roger Federer comfortably beat Rafael Nadal. I'm a big Federer fan so I enjoyed that.

Which football stadium would you most like to play at, that you haven't already appeared in?

It has always been a dream of mine since I was a kid to play at Barcelona's Nou Camp and that is still the case today. I have always been a huge fan of Barcelona.

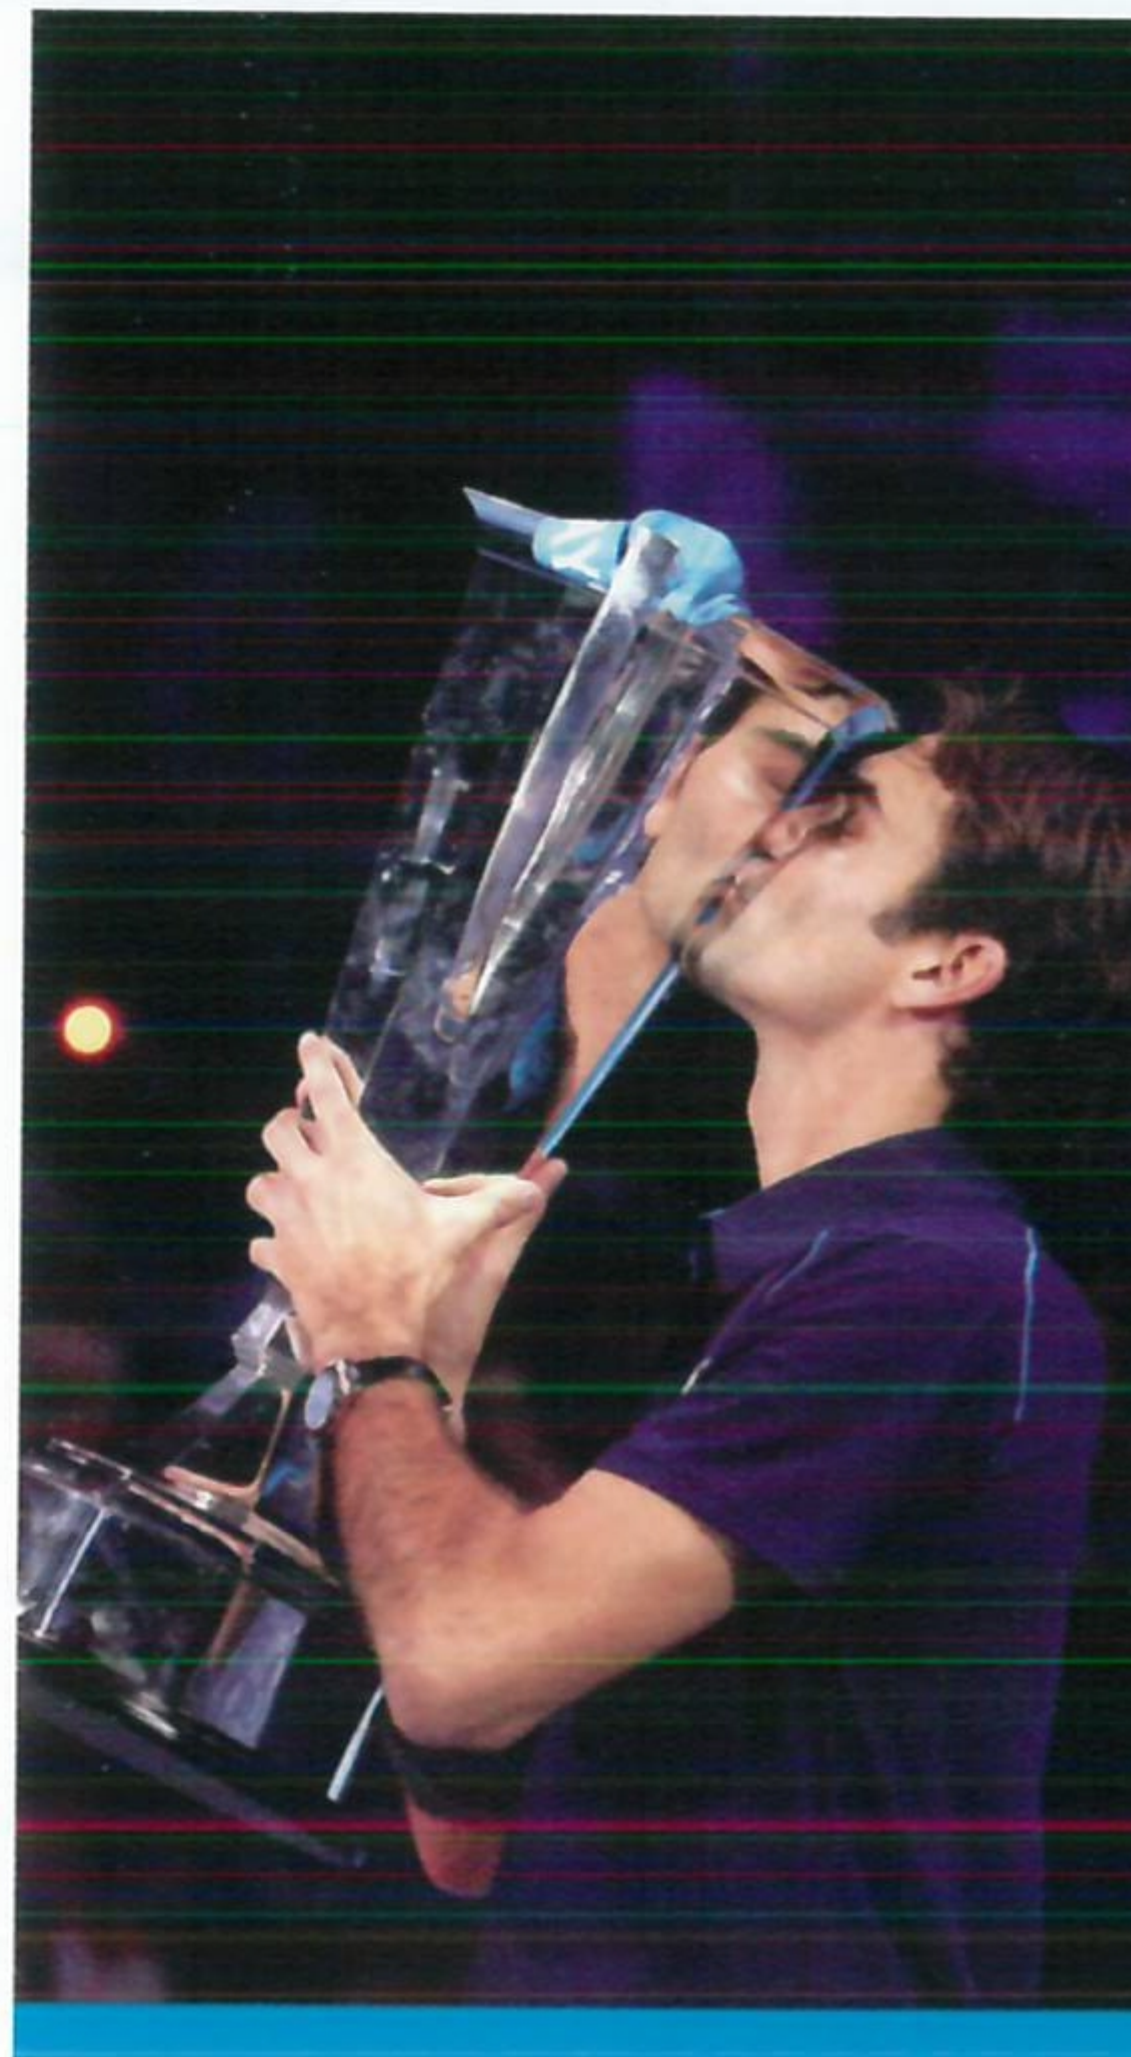

What's the best sporting arena you've been at, either as a player or spectator?

I would say the Bernabeu because of its history and the whole look and feel of the stadium is something special. I like the new Wembley too but I'm sorry I never got to visit the old stadium.

SPORTING HEROES

As a youngster, which footballer did you look up to the most?

Francesco Totti for two reasons. Firstly because of his amazing footballing skills and also because he chose to stay at one club throughout his career. Even though Roma wasn't the biggest club in the world, he showed great loyalty to remain there and I admire that.

Aside from football, which current sports person do you enjoy watching perform?

Roger Federer. Everything about him just oozes class. His elegance on court is so impressive and he has such a serious focus to remain at the top of his profession for so long.

Who would you say is your all-time sporting hero?

Michael Jordan. When I was growing up I loved watching basketball and he was always the main man. To leave the sport and then return and still be as good as he was showed what a fantastic athlete he was.

If you could spend the day as another sports person, who would it be and why?

Probably Federer. Apart from what I said earlier about him, as footballers we are always part of a team, whereas obviously he is an individual and it would be interesting to see what it would be like to be wholly responsible for your success or failure in a sport.

OLYMPIC MEMORIES

Which was the first Olympics you remember watching?

I remember the 1992 Games in Barcelona because of the Croatian basketball team, who reached the final and only missed out on gold to the USA's 'Dream Team'.

What one Olympics moment stands out for you?

It has to be that basketball final. The 1992 Olympics were the first time Croatia competed as an independent nation so it was a major event in our country. We had a very good team with the likes of Drazen Petrovic, who I would say was probably the finest Croatian sportsman of all-time. He tragically died in a car accident at the age of 28.

Who has been your favourite Olympian down the years?

My own personal favourite would be from the Winter Olympics, the Croatian alpine skier Janica Kostelic. She is the only woman to have won four gold medals at the Winter games, an amazing sportsperson.

Which one Olympic event would you most like to compete in?

It would only be football. Unfortunately Croatia haven't qualified for next summer's Games.

Will you be attending the London 2012 games, if so which events?

Yes I will...we are a proud nation and I am looking forward to supporting my compatriots in London.

SPORTING PROWESS

What other sports did you enjoy playing before becoming a footballer?

Just the ones I mentioned before – tennis and basketball.

What was the last sport you played, aside from football?

During the summer I played a few games of tennis as I still like to play when I can.

If you could, which one sport would you most like to try that you've never done before?

I wouldn't mind having a go at slalom skiing, the skill involved is very difficult.

What's your favourite games console sports game?

I don't play any of them!

CLOSING DAWS

THE MICHAEL DAWSON COLUMN

It was one of those nights against PAOK in the Europa League on Wednesday.

I felt for the lads, because they gave everything to get that equaliser in the second half but it wasn't to be.

As the manager said afterwards, the start cost us dearly. To go 2-0 down so early leaves you with a mountain to climb against any team in any competition, home or away.

We've all been in that position and having scored early, you give everything to hold onto that lead, and playing away from home makes that resolve that little bit stronger. PAOK were no different and you have to give credit to them, they hung in there and got the result they wanted.

Of course, the defeat makes it tough for us in terms of qualifying for the knockout stages of the competition. All we can do is go to Shamrock Rovers and try to win that game, although that will be tough in Dublin. We'll then have everything crossed that the other result falls our way.

So it's back to the Premier League this afternoon.

Bolton are always one of the toughest physical tests in the league and I must admit I'm a little surprised to see where they are in the table. Owen Coyle is a great manager and they impressed me last season.

What it will mean is they will be scrapping for their lives, and that makes them a tough proposition. I've had some real battles with their talisman, Kevin Davies – as a defender, you always know you've been in a game with him – and with characters like him, Gary Cahill, Nigel Reo-Coker, Zat Knight, Jussi Jaaskelainen, plus the manager, you can't imagine Bolton will be at the wrong end of the table for long.

Congratulations to the gaffer and Scott Parker, who have won the Barclays Manager and Player of the Month Awards for November. I said from day one what an impact I thought Scotty would have and I'm delighted to have been proved right. We've been on a fantastic run and he's played a massive part in it.

Finally, an update on my injury and things are progressing well, I've just started to run again and I'm taking it step by step, working hard in the gym every day and can't wait to get back out there!

Good luck to the lads this afternoon.
